The spirit of the trail makers was to overcome situations which tended to hinder progress to their goal.

The Forty-Niners

"Gold! Gold! Gold! the cry rose in volume day by day. This word alone was enough to quicken the pulse of America.

Almost immediately after the discovery of gold at Sutter's sawmill in January, 1848, an overland immigration from east to west began. At recognized meeting or "jumping off" places thousands of people gathered in confused milling masses. It was these people, the groups preparing for departure in the summer of 1849, that are known as "The Forty-Niners."

"The Forty-Niners," ignoring the obvious hardships of such a journey, began the five-month trip with a bright and adventurous spirit. Many wagon trains started out wholly unprepared for the conditions which they were to meet. Either overloaded or understocked, many caravans fell apart and were forced to turn back. Others, due to improper leadership, were beset with quarrels and dissension. The geography of the trail country presented yet another difficulty. The hot, dry desert and snow-bound mountains were equally dangerous stumbling blocks.

Despite all these obstacles, the gold seekers continued swarming westward by all known trails. Braving Indian attack and disease, "The Forty-Niners" at last reached their goal, the diggings, the vast golden empire.

Day by day, we Cleveland Forty-Niners search for gold, for the valuable things in life. Sifting, smelting, refining the knowledge that the trail blazers in history, science, and education have given us; working, playing, living our lives in 1949. No longer following the slow plodding oxen, but speeding ahead in airplanes and automobiles, eating foods grown in distant lands, wearing clothes made in factories by highly specialized labor, living in houses made comfortable by countless inventions.

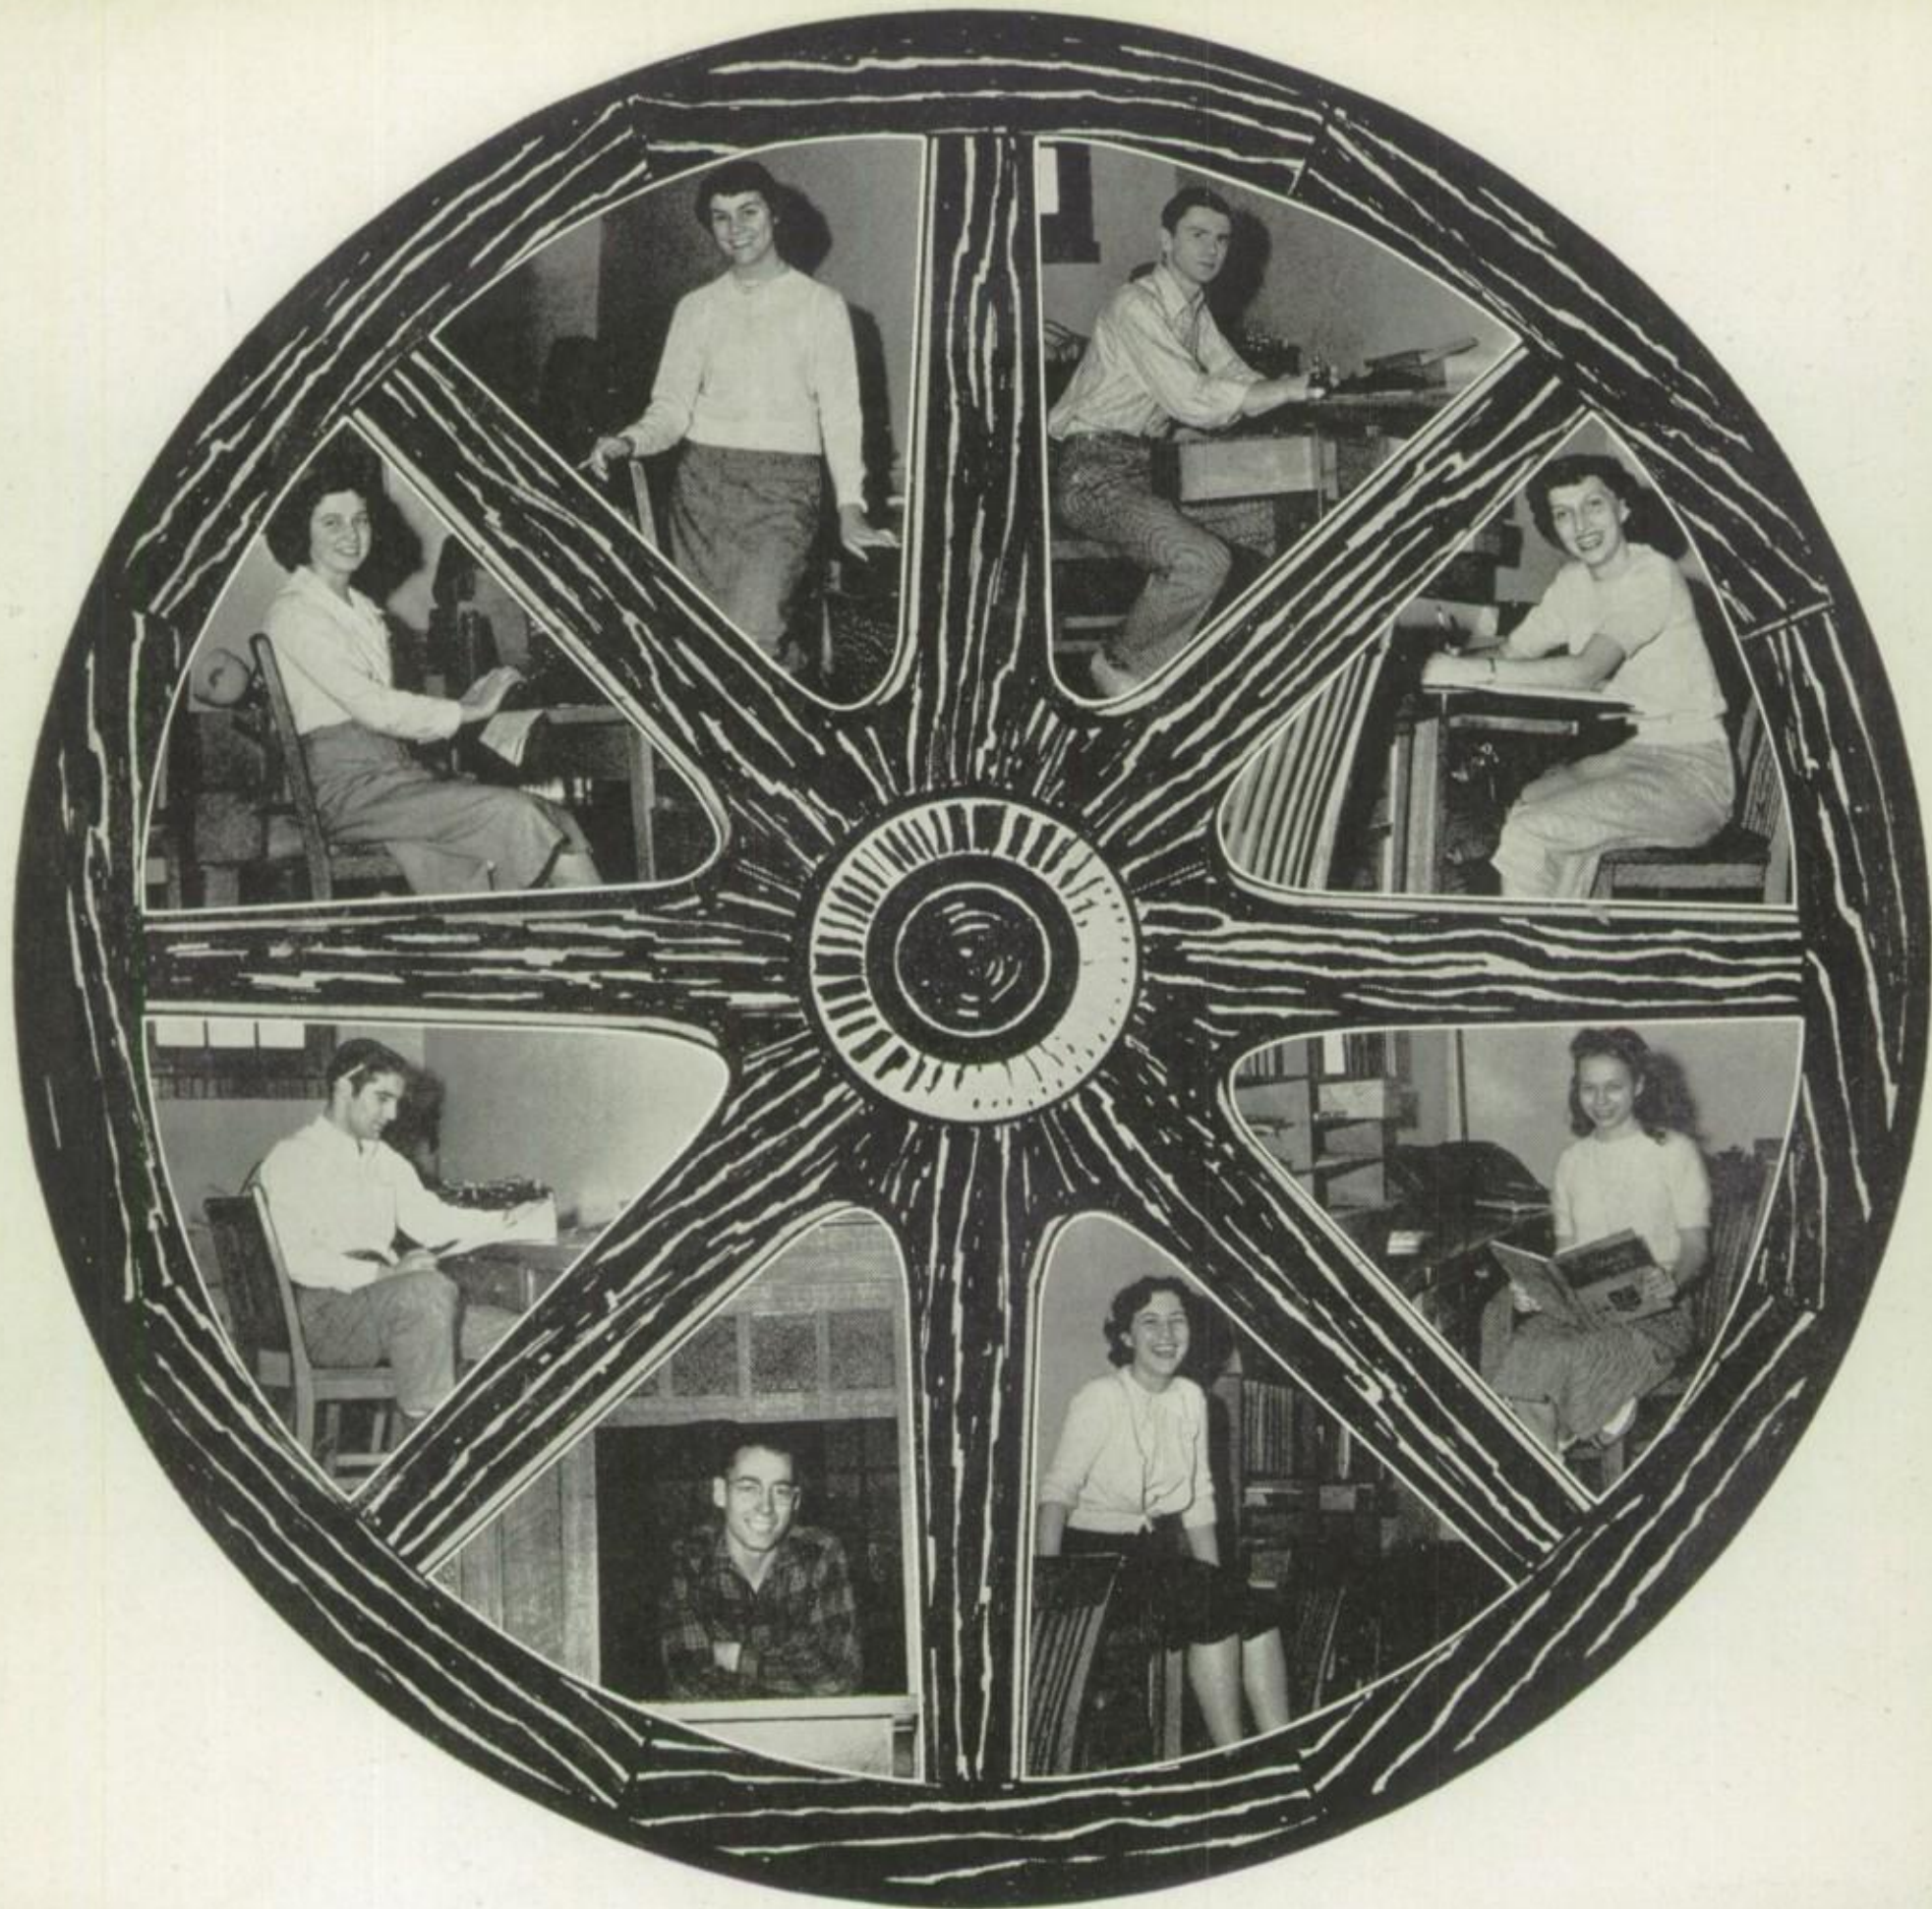

And we are still pioneers. We are still seeking gold, gold which stands for the valuable things in life, and which still quickens the pulse of America.

Milestones Along the Way

The dictionary's definition of a milestone is this: "A stone serving as a milepost"; hence, an important event in a man's life. Of all the outstanding events in life, the separation of a man from his home in order to develop a new country is among the most important. As he trod his way westward, certain phases of his journey, as crossing a river or desert, became firmly implanted on his memory—they became milestones along the way.

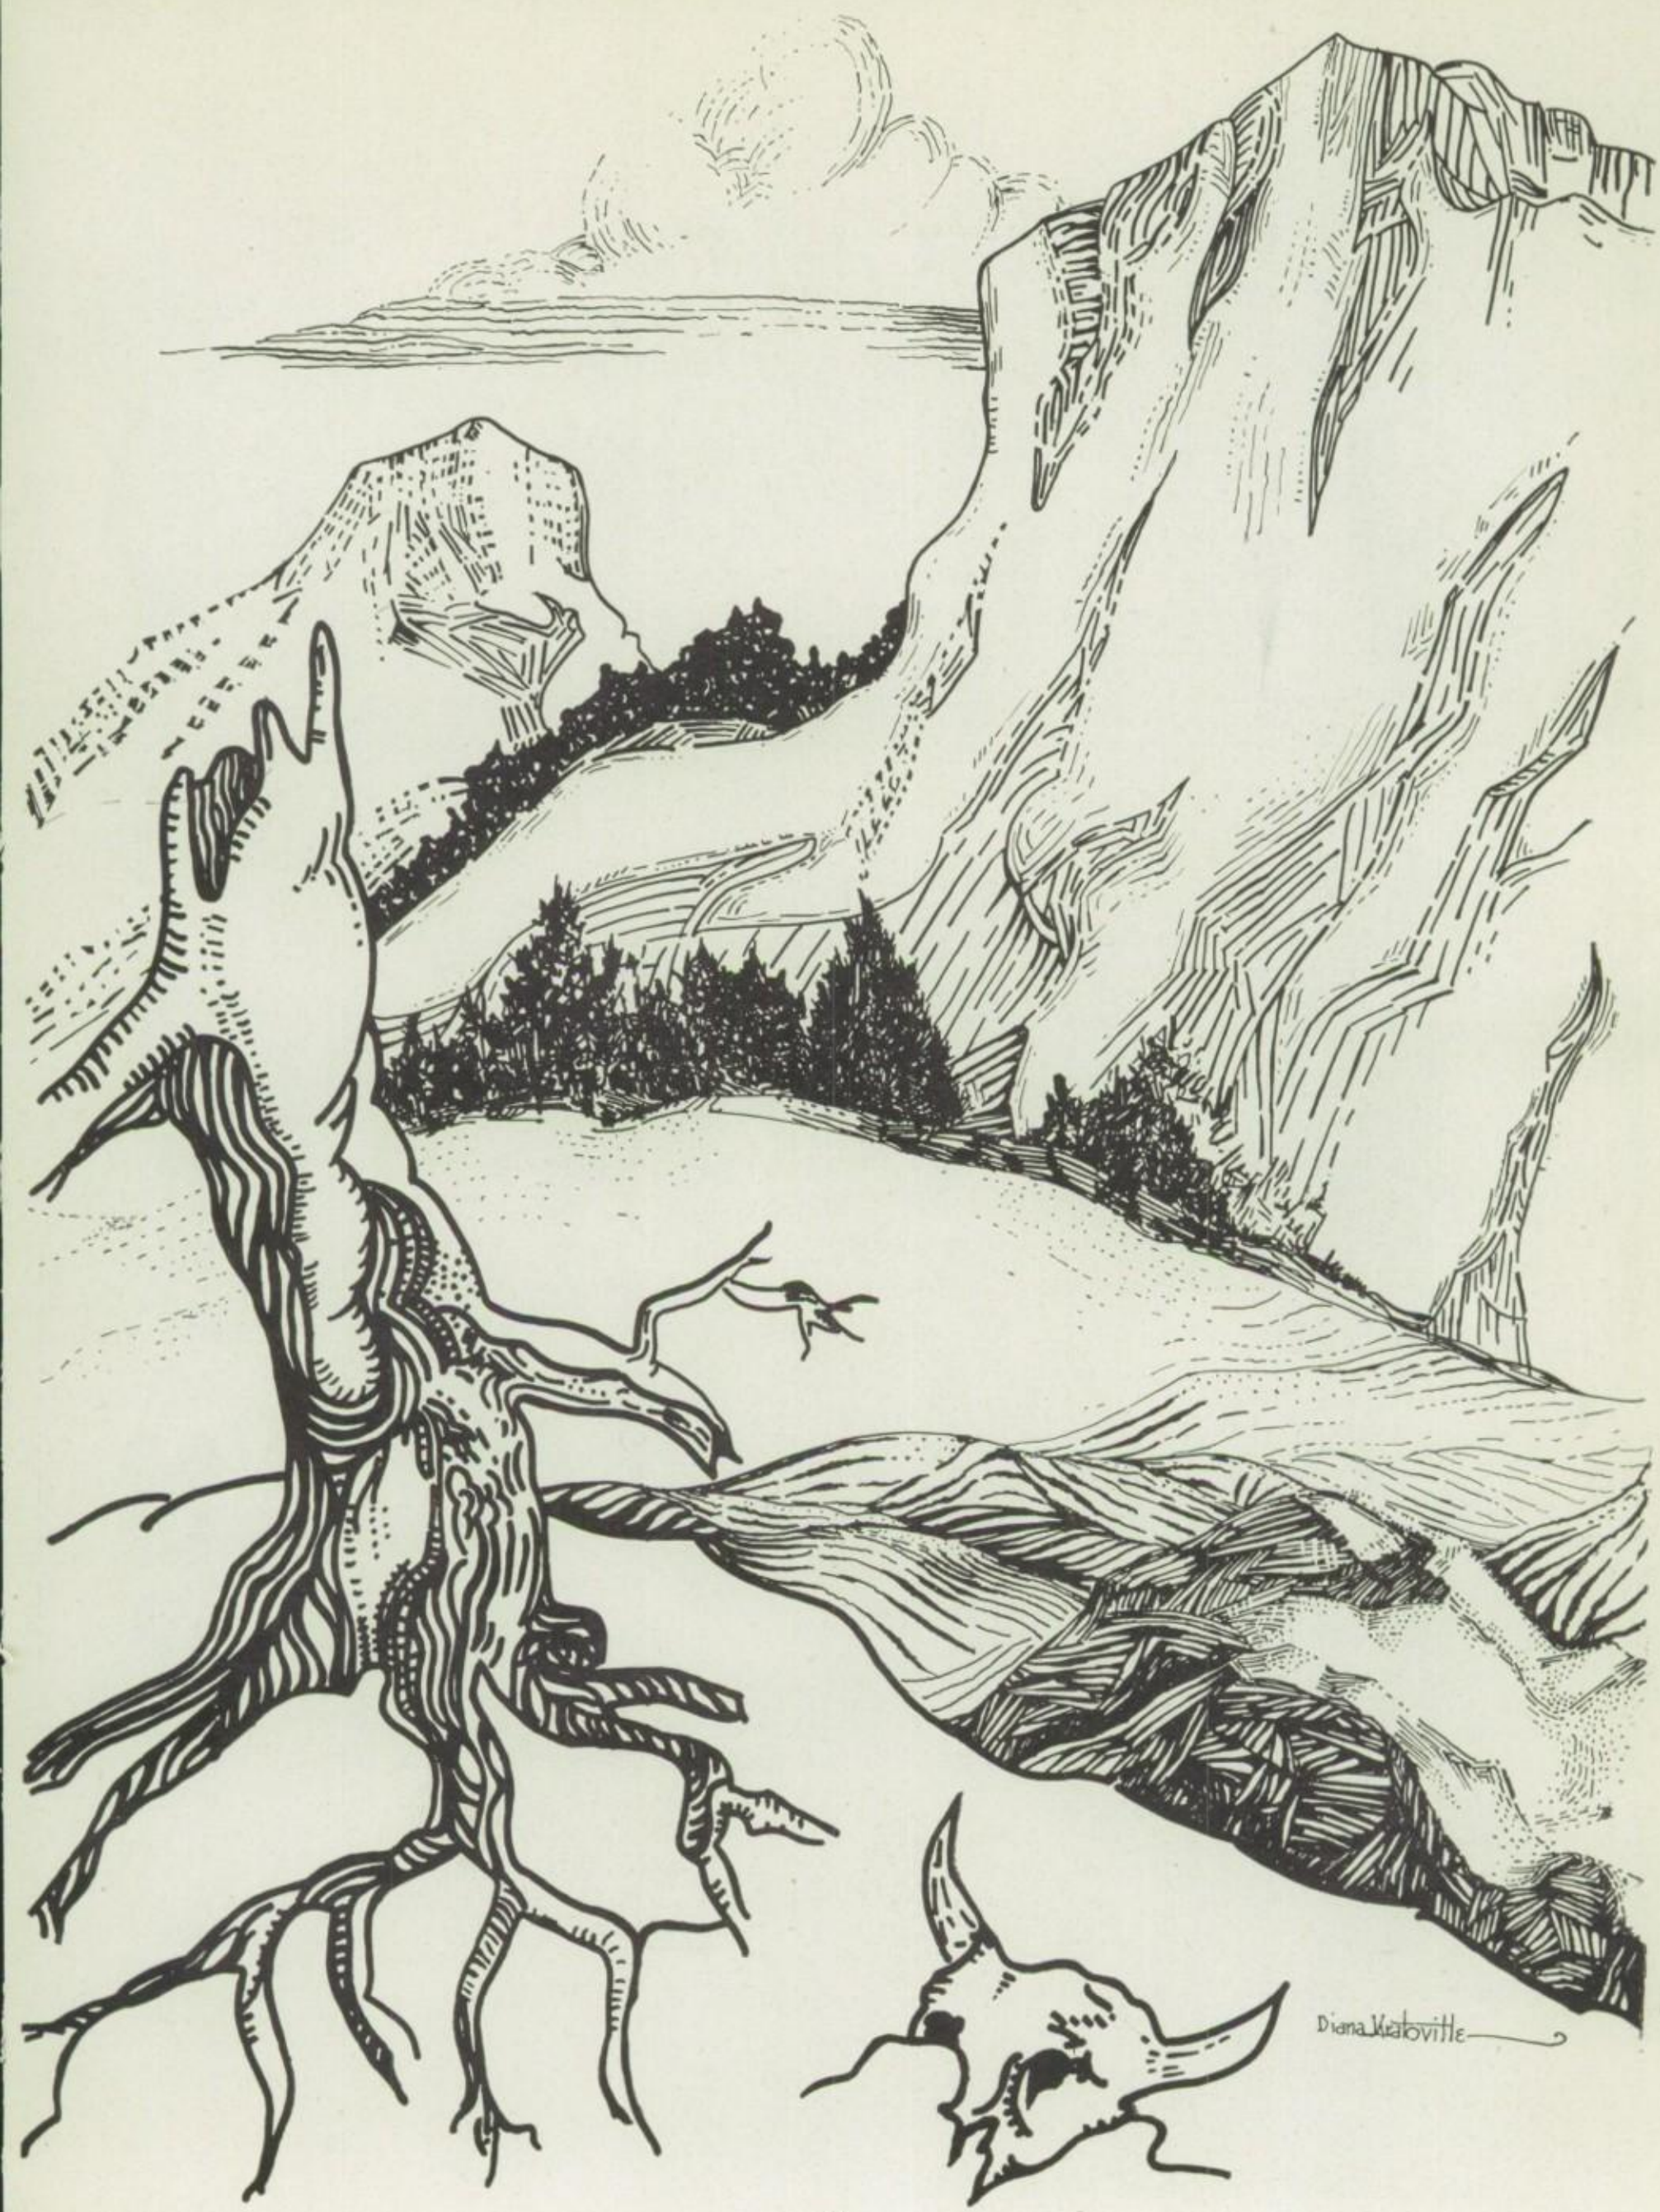

Many milestones in these men's lives still stand: the homestead farm on a Kansas plain where a would-be prospector turned wheat farmer; the thriving metropolis which was once a main street and general store where people decided to settle.

But to the Forty-Niner who went "all the way", crossing the Sierra-Nevadas, and looking upon California, for the first time, finding his first gold-nugget—these were the milestones of his life. And always there was the final milestone, the crude cross along the side of the trail.

Although not quite as serious as those of the Forty-Niners, Cleveland Forty-Niners have their own milestones. To the graduates of the January and June Classes, Commencement Day is the milestone of the year. To the Football Queen, the Coronation is a milestone she will never forget. The spring shows and operettas bring back memories of endless rehearsals, last minute excitement and will long be remembered as milestones by the stars. Of course, the thrilling sports events that packed the year will always be milestones to the boy who participated and to the fans who watched.

MISS DORIS PECHE

The Coronation

On the evening of Saturday, October 9, 1948, the students of Grover Cleveland High School gathered in the auditorium to await the coronation of the new Football Queen.

Mr. Arthur O. Kelly, our principal, opened the program by describing the first coronation, held in 1934, and telling us a little of the history of this tradition of Cleveland. He then turned the program over to Henry Bentz, President of the Senior Class.

The curtains parted revealing a stage set in the Olympic theme, designed by Miss Knepper and her Stage Crafters. Majestic mountains, tall graceful columns, and other Grecian motifs gave the stage a regal look. In the center of the stage was a throne occupied by our Football Captain, King for the night, Joe Haenchen.

Henry began his share of the program by introducing the football team, which appeared in football uniforms and took its place on benches on either side of the stage. Then came the part of the program we were all anxious to see—the entrance of the maids and the Queen.

Betty Bornemann, our retiring queen, was the first to enter. Her escort was Bill Cornelli. She wore a lovely white velvet formal and carried a beautiful bouquet of pink roses.

Next came the maid from Term One, Mary Ann Neuhaus. Her escort was Russell Sims. Mary Ann wore a very effective pink gown with a bustle in the back. Her bouquet was of pink flowers. The next maid to enter was the maid for Term Two, Shirley Jaeckel. Her escort was Richard Grider. Shirley wore a gown of aqua brocaded faille and net. Her accessories were silver and she carried a bouquet of yellow daisies. The maid for Term Three, Ann Schlossstein, was the next to make her appearance. Her escort was Leo Mayer. She wore a stunning dress of silver green satin and carried a bouquet of white daisies. Delores Steffel, maid for Term Four, was next to enter. Her gown was of white taffeta, strapless and trimmed with rhinestones. Her bouquet was pink and white. Delores's escort was Leo Carosella.

The fifth maid was Delores Bobes, a Term Five student. Her gown was blue-green satin and marquisette and her escort was Gordon Von Doersten. She carried a bouquet of blue flowers.

Last of the Junior maids to appear was Joan Mayo, the maid for Term Six. She looked very attractive in her gown of aqua taffeta. Her bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums made the effect even more dramatic. Her escort was LeRoy Guittar.

Janet Doelling, of Term Eight, was the first of the Senior maids to enter. She wore a beautiful strapless gown of champagne satin and carried white flowers. Her escort was Jim Bauer.

The next of the Senior maids was Lois Krauska, a Term Seven student. She wore a gorgeous white net and satin formal and carried a bouquet of white flowers. Lois was escorted by Edward Rosenhauer. Jeanne Carpenter, Term Eight, was the next of the Senior maids. She wore a beautiful white satin and net gown and was escorted by Joe Slyman. Her bouquet was of white flowers.

The last of the Senior maids was Mary Ann Lehnig of Term Eight. She wore a gown of richly brocaded satin and carried white flowers. Her escort was Bill Sandidge. Next in the royal procession was the crown bearer, Richard Seim, a freshman. He was dressed as a court page in a green velvet suit.

Then at last came the moment for which we had all waited. Our new Football Queen, Miss Doris Peche, came in on the arm of Gene Jabker. Doris wore a beautiful strapless gown of egg shell faille. The gown had a full skirt and hoop. She wore a white satin train over her dress and carried a beautiful bouquet of American beauty roses. Her train was carried by Joyce Braun and Louise Fey, two freshmen girls. When Doris reached the stage, Betty stepped down from the throne and took her place next to her escort. Joe then placed the crown on Doris's head and she took her place on the throne. The court was now complete and the curtain closed.

In a few moments the curtains parted and the second part of the program began. Ruth Meyer entertained the court with a toe dance accompanied by Jeanine Reifeiss. Then Ilona Kombrink charmed the audience by singing "L'Amour Toujours L'Amour." She was accompanied by Marilyn Kalde. The program continued with a baton twirling exhibition by Virginia Schmidt. Next the Jolly Jills Girls Trio provided a different kind of entertainment. They sang a three-part arrangement of the "Hawaiian War Chant." The next number on the program was a song by Curt Troeger. "Every Day is Ladies' Day With Me." He was accompanied by Ilona Kombrink. Sally Klopmeier delighted the audience with her version of "It's Magic." For the next number on the program Curt and Ilona blended their talents to sing "Sympathy." A very clever tap dance was done by a group of the dancing girls. It was to the rhythm of Cleveland's cheers. The last portion of the entertainment was the original Queen's Men singing for the last time. They started by singing "I Had a Dream Dear." Then as an encore they sang "Let Me Call You Sweetheart," and "Wedding Bells."

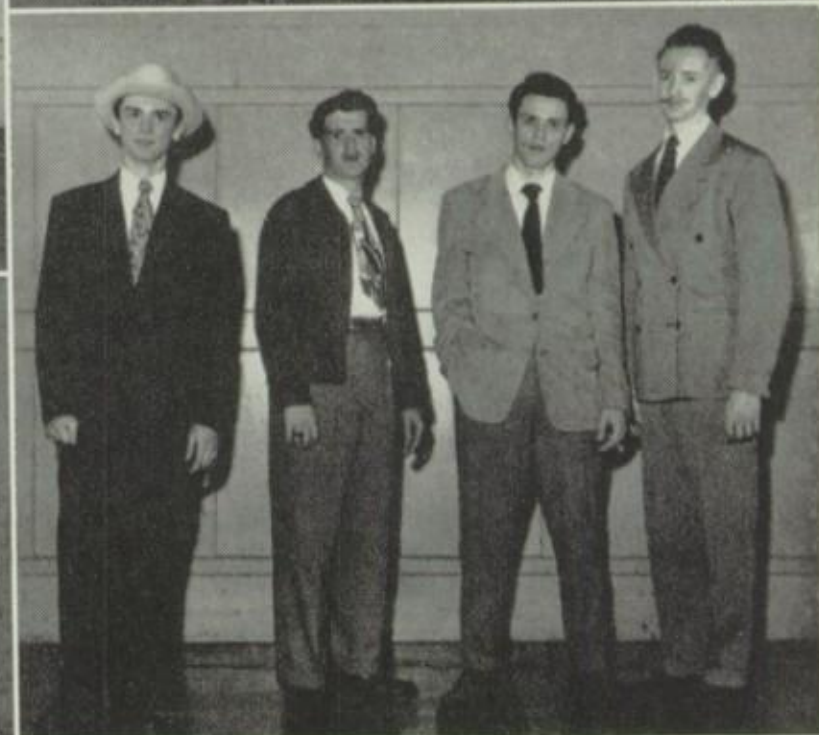

The cheer leaders then closed the program by giving a few cheers and singing the Cleveland Loyalty Song.

Good News

The musical comedy "Good News" was presented by Cleveland High School, November 18 and 19.

"Good News," written by Laurence Schwab and B. G. DeSylva, is based on college life and centers around the problems of the popular football player, Tom Marlowe. Tait College is to play the most important game of the year but Tom must pass his astronomy exam before he can play. Without Tom, Tait's team doesn't stand a chance, so Pat Bingham, Tom's sophisticated girl friend, offers her cousin's help as she is an excellent student in astronomy. Tom has proposed to Pat many times but after working with her cousin, Connie, decides to ask Pat's release. Pat assumes as much and reminds Tom of his promise, insisting that if he plays and wins they will be married. Tom passes only because of Professor Kenyon's school spirit. He plays, Tait wins, and Pat, having a sudden change of heart, decides to release Tom from his promise so he's able to marry Connie.

Sharing the honors for the male lead were Joe Slyman, Thursday night, and Curt Troeger, Friday night. Both boys earned the enthusiastic receptions of the audiences. Jean Luehrmann played the demure Connie Lane perfectly, and her beautiful voice delighted everyone. The sophisticated Pat Bingham was expertly performed by JoNell Willhauck. Dottie Bower and Dale Mullaney, as Babe O'Day and Bobbie Randall, were outstanding in many hilarious scenes.

Others in the cast included Bill Sandidge as Professor Kenyon, Al Ulsas as "Pooch" Kearney, Donna Hampel as Millie, Erwin Mayer as Beef Saunders, Lyle Eichborn and Phil Hasser as Bill Johnson, Richard Wiedman as Windy, Ted Euler as Slats, Richard King as Jim, Keith Zaharia as George, and Pat Walling, Shirley Simmons and Janet Burns as the Cheer Leaders.

The hit songs "Good News," "Varsity Drag" and "Lucky in Love" were high points in the show. The dance numbers for "Varsity Drag" and other numbers were under the direction of Miss Vera Ulbricht who did an excellent job.

To Miss Louise Mann, Production Manager, goes the credit for the wonderful chorus and solo work. The Assistant Production Manager, Miss Margaret Boland, must receive praise for the fine work she did directing the dialogue. Mr. Vernon J. Barrett and the orchestra will long be remembered for thier creditable performance.

The scenery was under the capable direction of Miss Knepper in Stagecraft. Miss M. I. Mann deserves credit for the costumes and make-up. No show would be complete without the help of Mr. Harold Doxsee and the boys of Audio Visual.

A vote of thanks must also be given to the Student Council, the Art classes, and the Orange and Blue for assisting in the production of "Good News," a most successful and commendable operetta.

"Pot Pourri"

Cleveland High School was proud of the colorful production given on the nights of May 6 and 7, 1948. The reason for this pride was the fact that this was the first show created, managed and produced by the students of the school. Yes, they not only participated in this successful show, but planned it every inch of the way. This new experiment brought into view new and hidden talents.

The opening scene was a jungle treatment of "Civilization," with the title song, sung by Mike Fortner, and the Girl's Trio. It was followed by a ceremonial dance proving that they, too, did not want to leave the jungle.

Scene Two gave way to "Stormy Weather," sung by attractive Sally Klopmeier. But it was not long until JoNeil Willhauck and Edgar Hartmann looked through the clouds to see the silver lining. A bright and sunny dance followed.

"Play Gypsies, Dance Gypsies" echoed through the auditorium with singing by Jean Luehrmann, Edgar Hartmann and Dale Mullaney, and dancing by Jeanne Bierach, and telling of fortunes, unfolding the mystery of gypsy life.

The next scene took us to the picturesque "South." The chorus thought Summer-time was very nice till Sally Dorn told them of all the trouble she had seen. Jay Willoughby, Phil Hasser, and Joe Slyman decided the wisest of them all was "Ol' Man River."

Howls of laughter ripped through the audience as we looked in on the Feudin', Fussin' and Fightin' Martins and McCoys. The skit which was sprinkled with classic solos by Jo Ann Gunn, Bob Kranze and Jack Barger, ended as well as could be expected in feudin' families. The chorus did a splendid job.

After a brief intermission the entertaining Pot Pourri continued with a scene "South of the Border." The cast for this scene included some of Cleveland's favorites, such as Norma Waite, Louise Hahn, Tom Fernandez and Jay Willoughby.

Mary Lou Kohl and Richard Meyer, two outstanding students in the field of instrumental music, wrote the script as well as the musical score for this scene. Taking their share of the honors "When Teacher's Away," were Gloria Hearty, The Rusty Links Trio and Donald Blevins.

The last and perhaps the most outstanding scene was "Stardust." The orchestra set the mood by playing the theme song. The selections were as wide and as varied as the talents. The numbers ranged from "Romance" by Ilona Kombrink to a dance and twirling exhibition by the majorettes of Cleveland High School. All of the above mentioned participated with the exception of Bill Sandidge, Romona Rayborne and the Boys' Quartet. The Master of Ceremonies was Richard Matter.

The orchestra again sent the strains of the theme song through the audience as the curtain closed on a show well done.

Trail Blazers

"Of all the things done that cannot be undone, the opening of a backward country to civilization is the most irretrievable. Of all who ride under the pointing finger of fate the men and women who break new Trails have the mightiest monuments."

R. L. DUFFUS

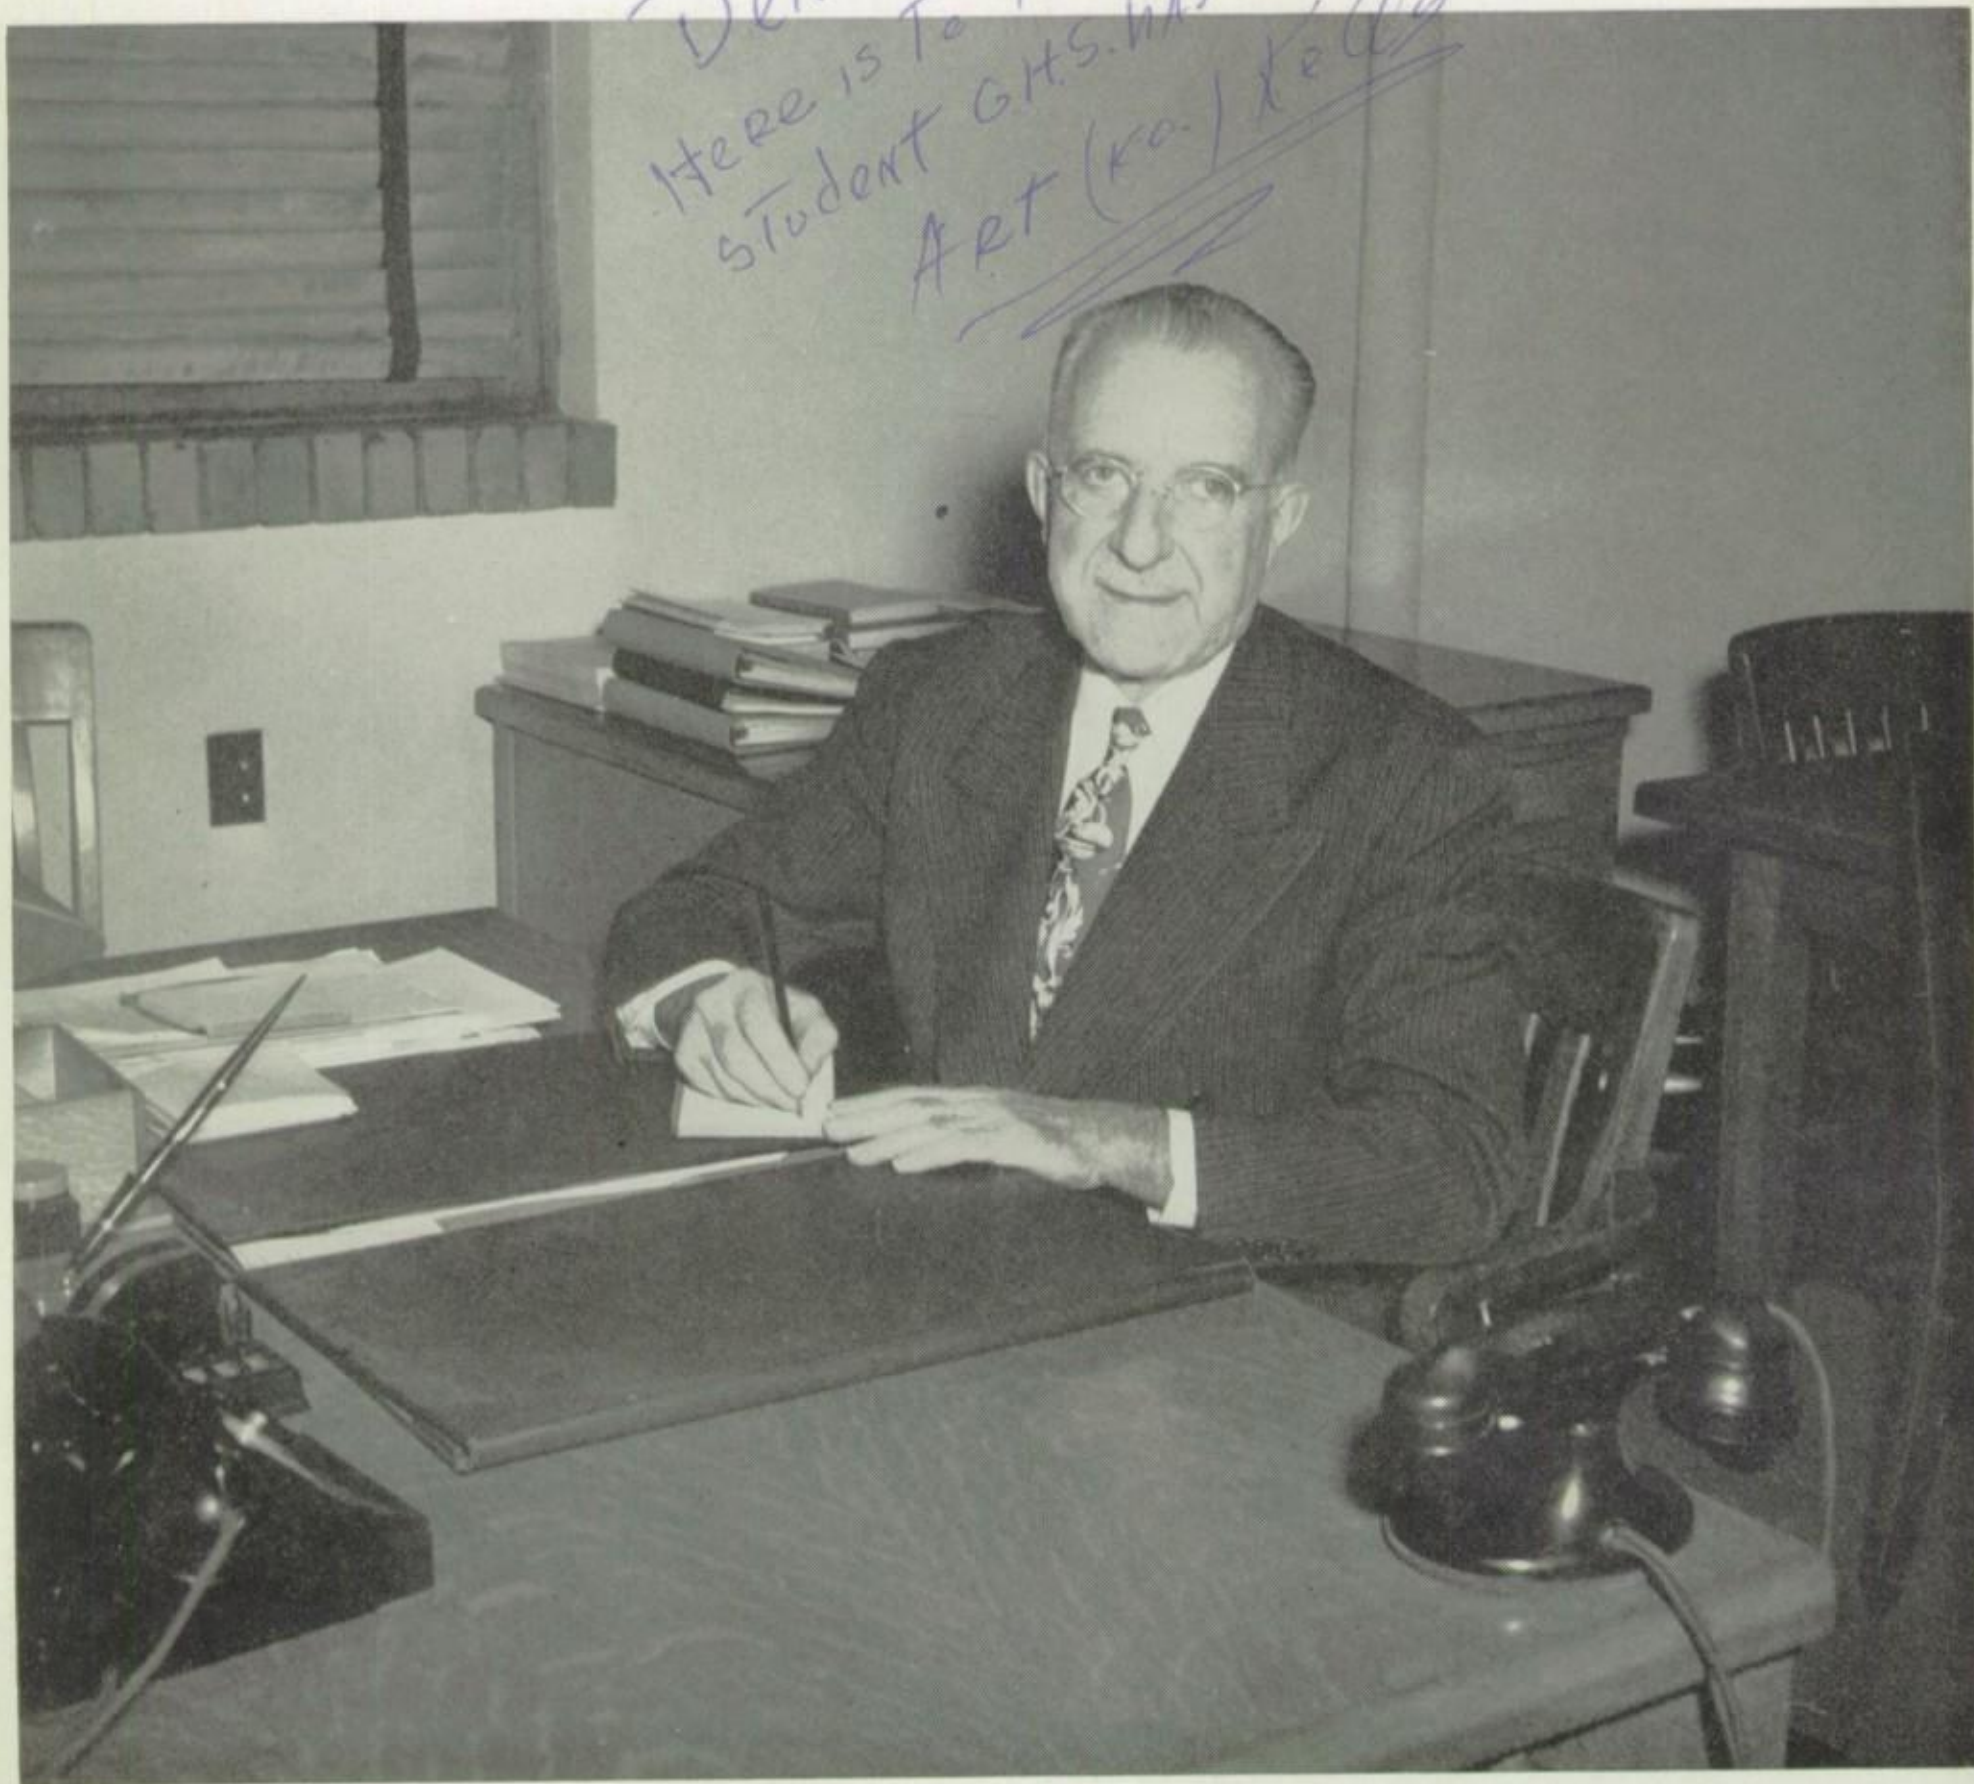

As the Trail Blazers went ahead of the others to prepare the way, so do the administrators and faculty prepare the way of learning for us and ease us over the most difficult paths.

In Memoriam

MISS EDITH COURTENAY BABBITT

The sad news of the passing of Miss Babbitt came as a surprise to the members of the Cleveland High School Faculty. She came from McKinley to Cleveland High School as a teacher of foreign languages.

She spent her summer vacations at "The Ridge," her home among the tall pine trees in Massachusetts. Other summers she enjoyed her vacation in her cottage on Lake George in New York. In fact her last day on May 30th, she spent in the woods, enjoying herself among the birds and animals and tall trees. She fed the birds in the trees, the deer at her back door and the porcupine in her yard.

She found time to attend universities during the summer and to teach in colleges. In the meantime she wrote several books of prose and poetry, such as "The Chapel by the Sea" and "This Man of Galilee."

Miss Babbitt was a good pal of the roads, visiting many historic points of interest, and was a great lover of music, playing the violin and piano well.

We are thankful for the privilege of having known so fine a person. The wholesome qualities that pervaded her fine nature, we know will be eternally cherished by all who knew her. Her accomplishments will always be a source of pride and great satisfaction to all her friends.

MR. ALBERT J. SCHWARTZ

In the passing of Mr. Schwartz, in March, 1948, Cleveland High School lost a well-loved former member of the faculty—one whose ability in his field was recognized by students and by fellow-teachers, and whose friendly nature endeared him to all of us. Mr. Schwartz, co-author of a high-school text in geometry, taught mathematics and had charge of the lockers and keys from the opening of Cleveland in 1915 until his retirement in 1947. Prior to his coming to Cleveland, he had taught for twelve years in other schools, one of which was McKinley High School.

He was born in Burlington, Iowa; graduated from Dallas City, Ill., High School and attended the University of Illinois. He received his Bachelor's degree from Leland Stanford Jr. University and his Master's degree from Washington University. He also did graduate work at Columbia University and the University of Chicago.

For many years he traveled extensively during his summer vacations, and at the time of his death was living in California.

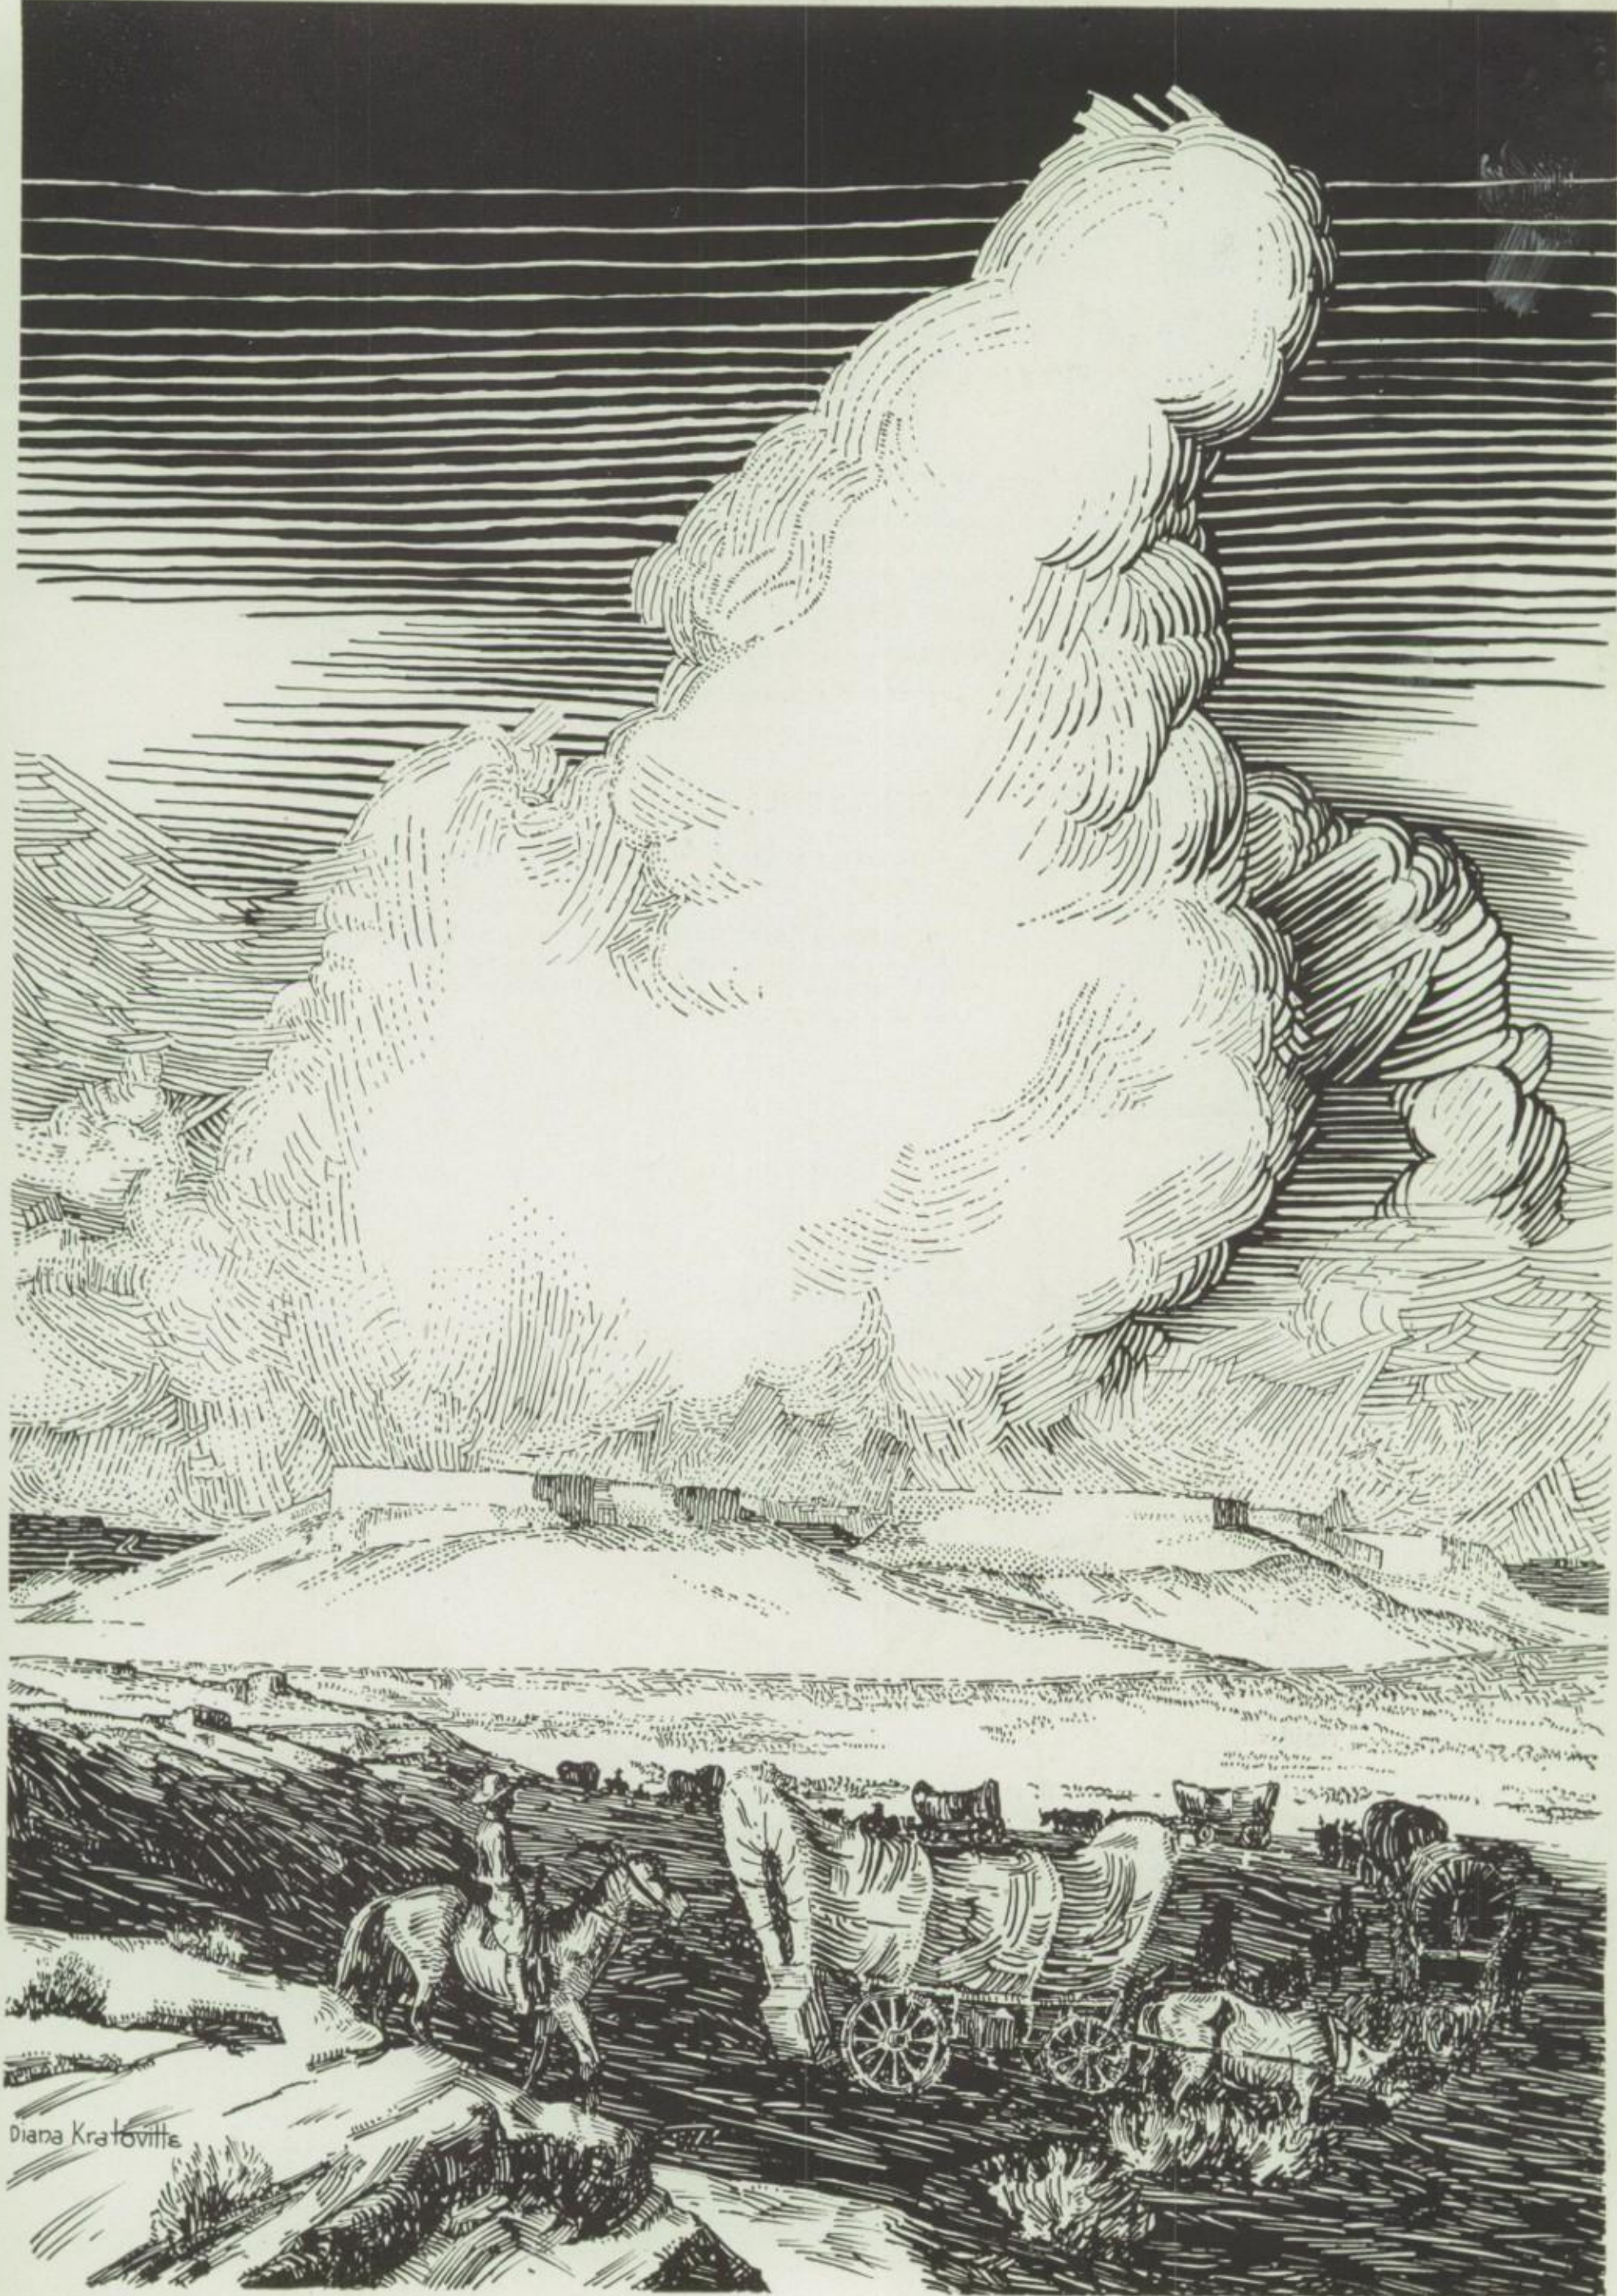

January Forty-Niners

Yesterday, "The Forty-Niners" carried on through hunger, thirst, Indian attacks, buffalo stampedes, drizzling rains, swollen turbid rivers, dust clouds, and storms.

Today, the same restless pioneer spirit carries on in our Cleveland Forty-Niners, and with it the will to conquer. Sometimes it was the solution of a difficult algebra problem, sometimes the conjugation of a French verb, and sometimes it was that final examination that seemed to impede our progress. But we have gone forward with our motto before us:

"Progressing today, succeeding tomorrow."

June Forty-Niners

"In 1848, the discovery of gold in California altered the history of the nation. At once the greatest gold rush in history began, and the "Forty-Niners" took their place in our picturesque history with the Pilgrim Fathers, the pioneer, and the cowboy. Every type of citizen, clerk, sailor, lawyer, doctor, farmer, even clergyman, everyone who loved adventure, tramped, rode, or sailed to the newest promise in the Land of Promise."

JAMES TRUSLOW ADAMS

"The Forty-Niners" came from all walks of life to seek gold. Our Cleveland Forty-Niners will go into all walks of life to seek their fortunes. Not all who set out in 1849 found the desired gold; possibly not all of the Cleveland emigrants will realize their goal. Since progress, however, is made only by "pioneering," to the June Forty-Niners we will echo that cry of the west, "On to the diggings"—for

"Work of Today is Success of Tomorrow."

Homesteads

In the good old days, the home was the place where the family and neighbors gathered at night to discuss the news of the day.

This news included everything from the welcome cry, "There's gold in them thar hills" to "Have you heard" . . .; the favorite phrase that buzzed about the friendly sewing circle.

Although it was a hundred years ago in the homesteads, that these scenes took place, time has brought no great basic change. At Cleveland today the homestead custom is still practiced.

Every morning before the scheduled classes begin, each student goes to his assigned home-room to receive the news of the forthcoming day. The advisor, head of the homestead, helps him plan his studies in the way that will be most beneficial for his life's work and which will develop his talents to the highest degree.

. . . And of course that favorite phrase, "Have you heard" . . . is still an essential part of the news.

Around the Trading Post

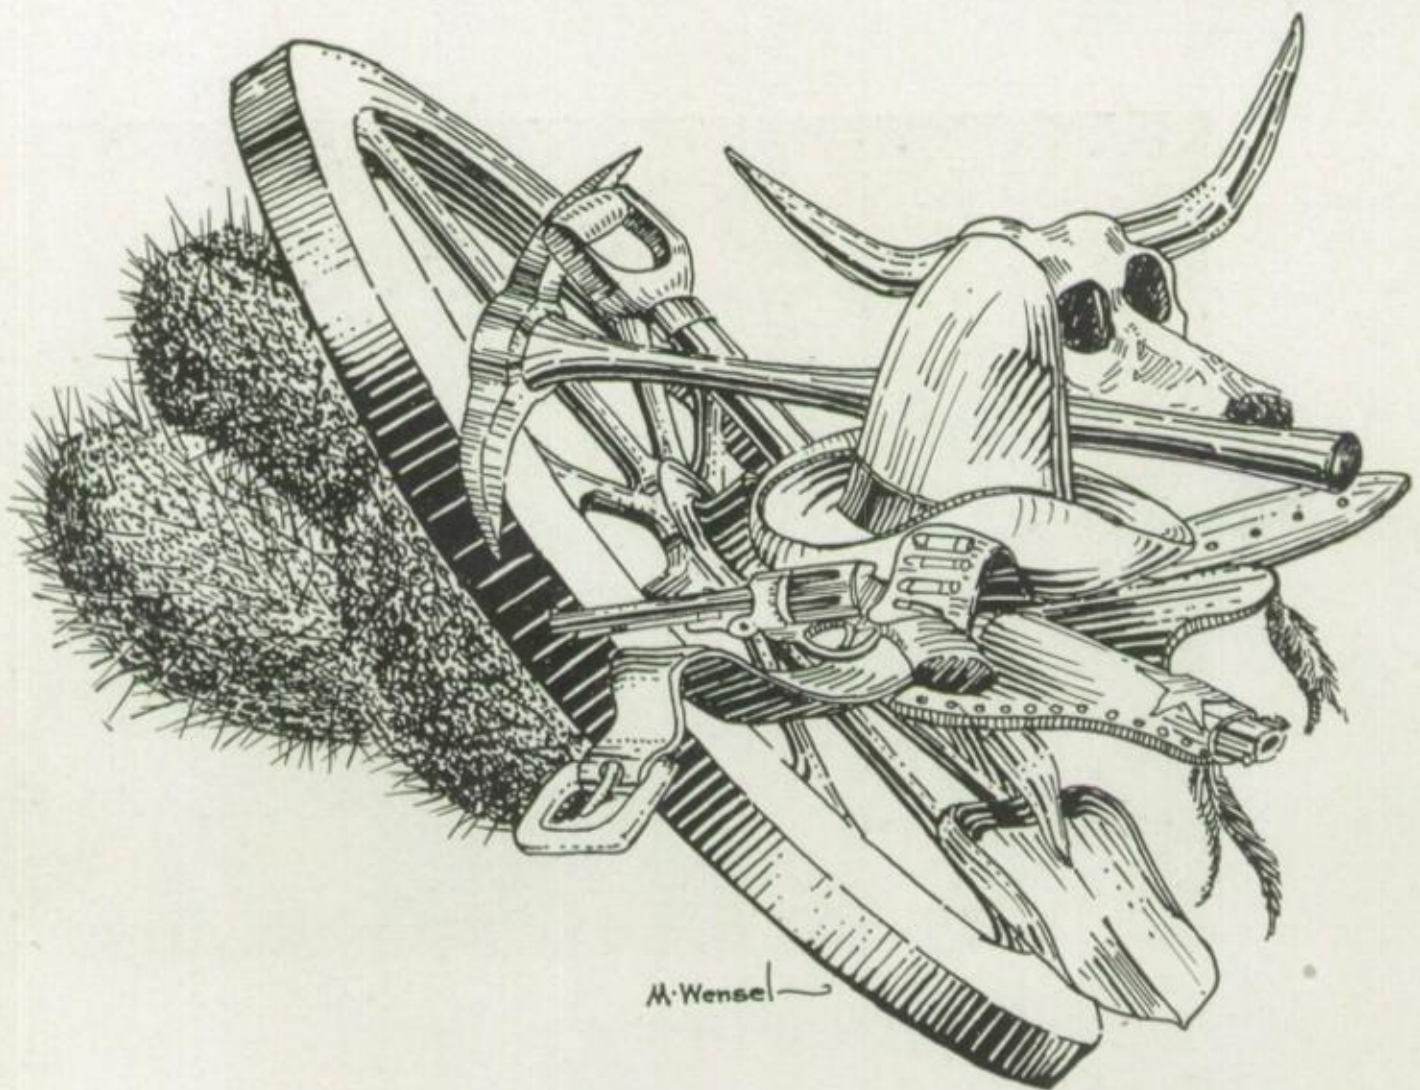

"Arriving at a trading post was a refreshing break in the journey to the travel-weary 'Forty-Niners.' Most of these western posts were the business and social centers of a vast territory combining post office, bank, general store, and hospital.

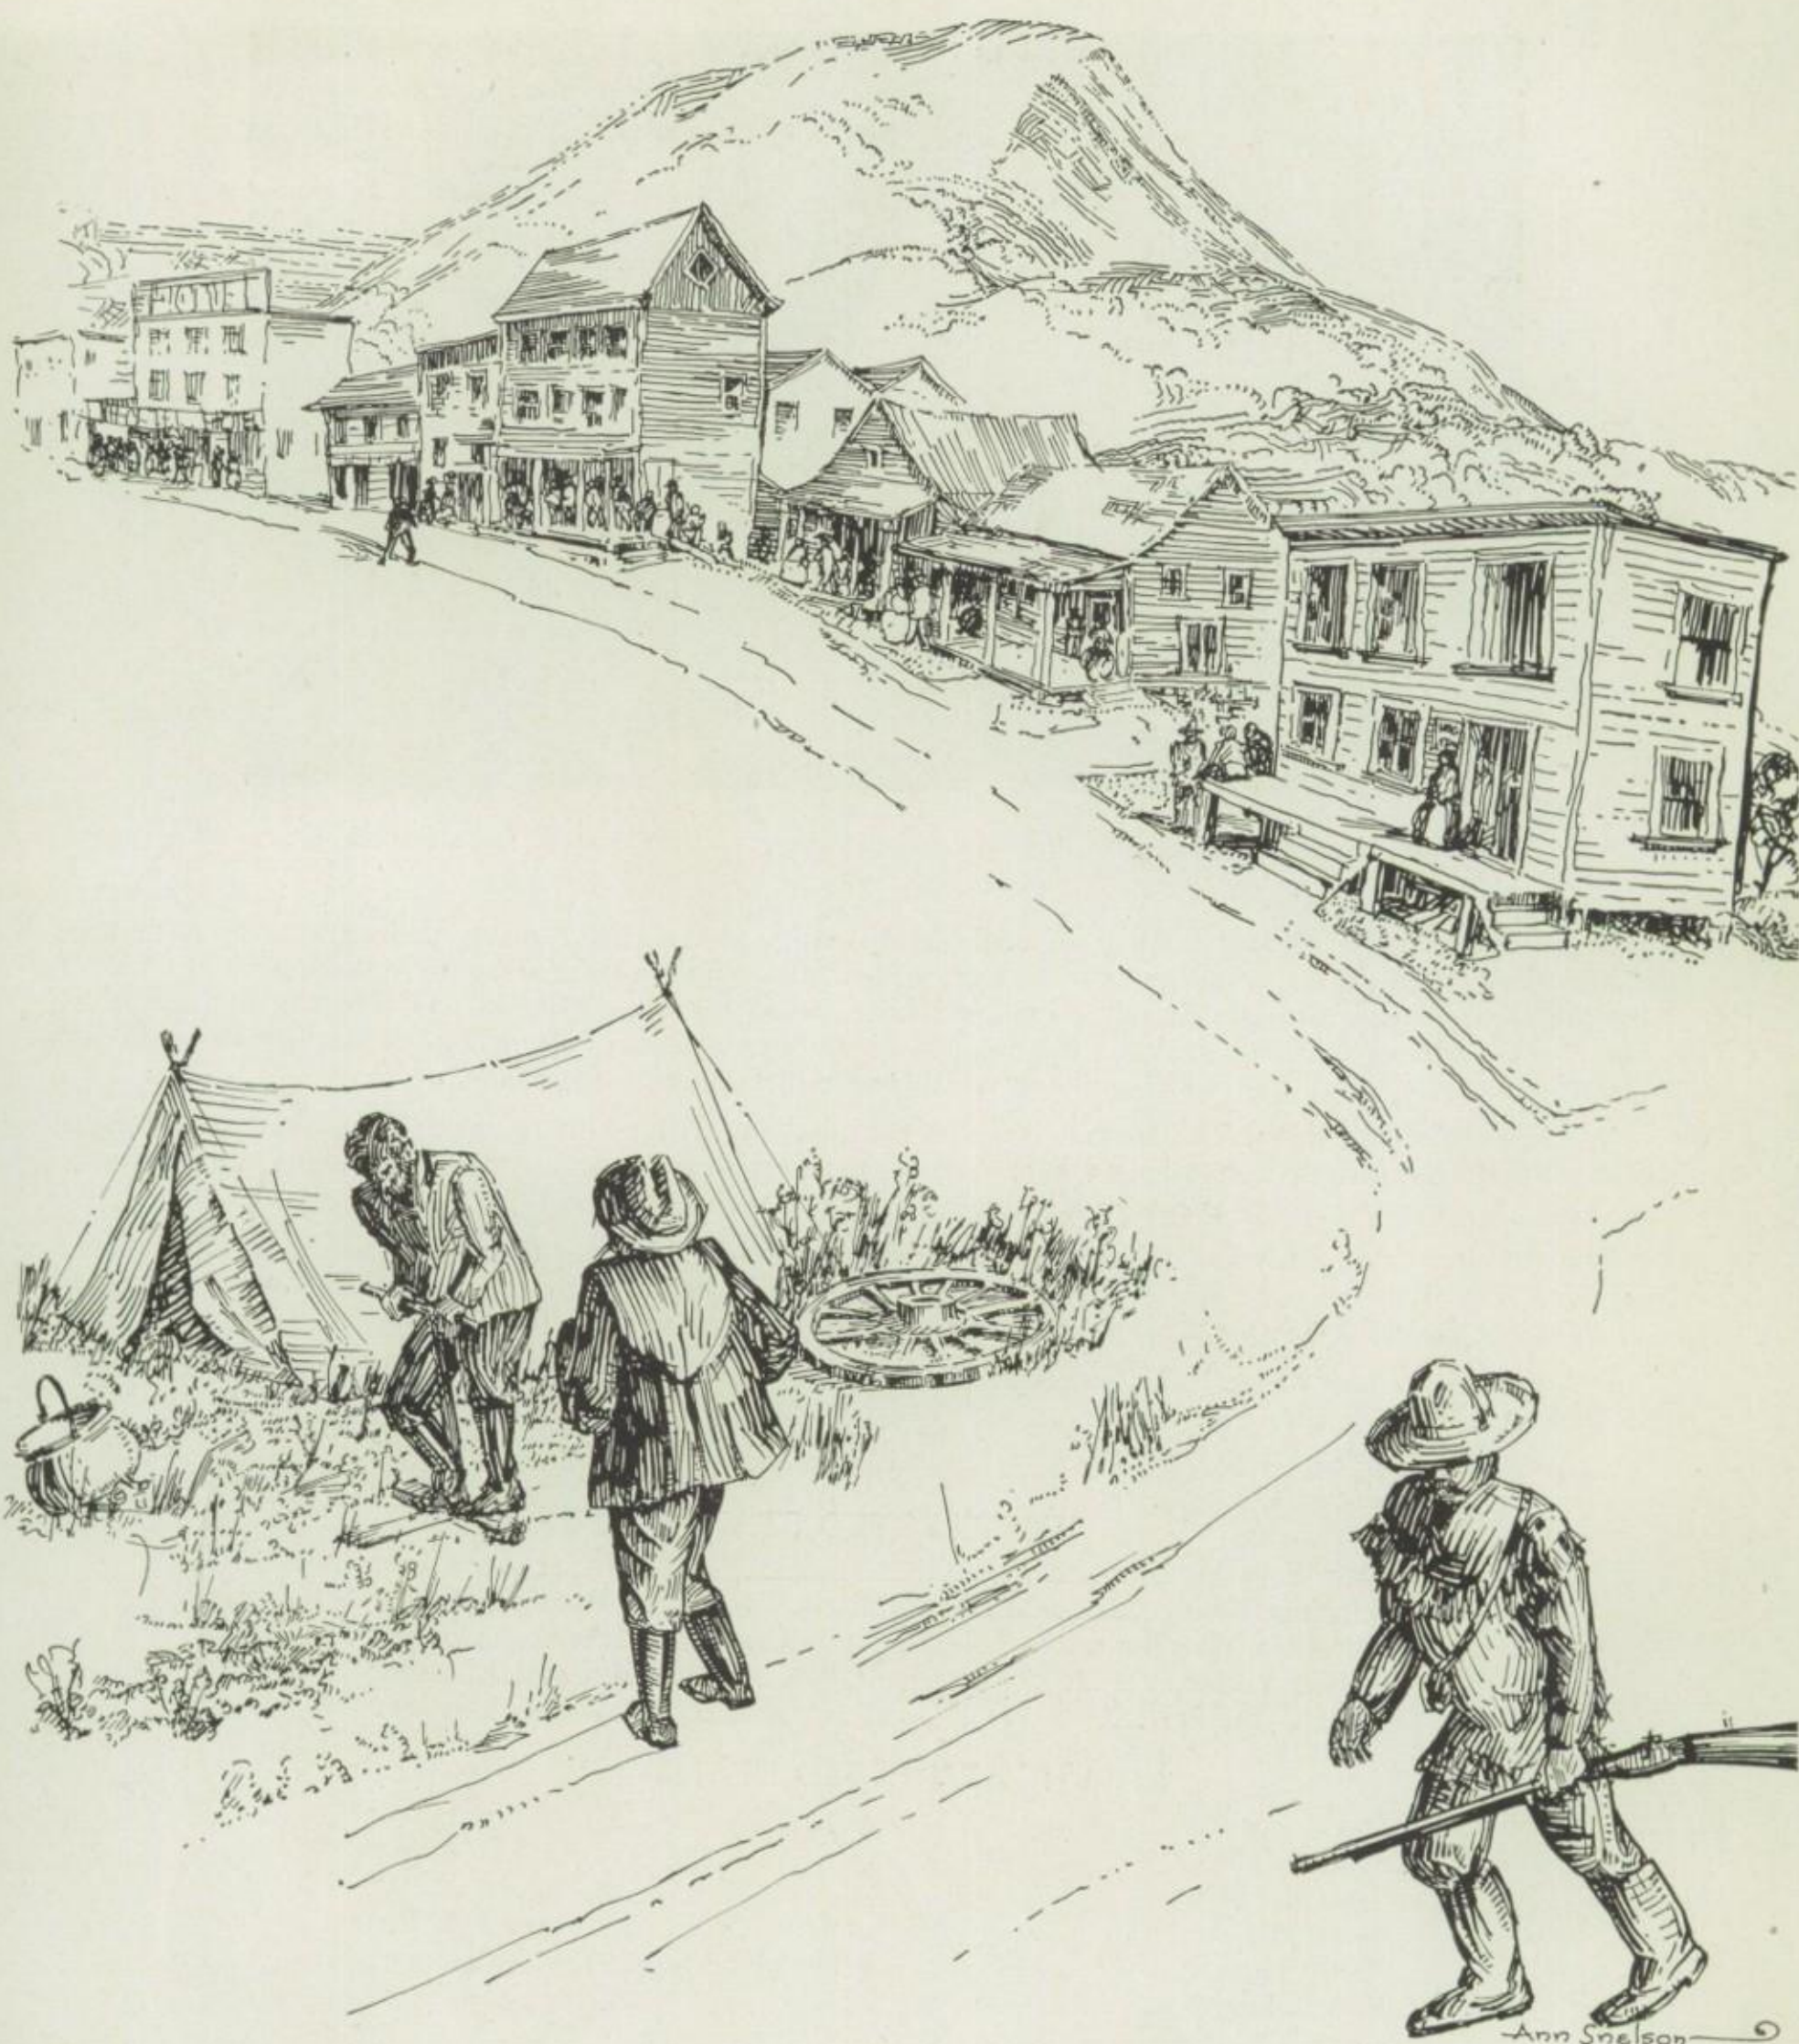

"There was always good company at these forts and much gaiety. In bad weather men congregated in the big room which was the general meeting place. Here in the evenings taffy pulls and dancing were welcome pastimes after a monotonous day of travel."

Such were the social conditions in communities in 1849, while today at Cleveland High we have our "trading post" which in reality is, for our "Forty-Niners," a combination of all the clubs and organizations of the school.

In these various clubs there is always good fellowship. They are places where the problems of various schedules are ironed out; and where promotion of fine entertainment and social welfare is the ultimate outcome. Therefore they have the effect of complete enjoyment and pastime after a weary day at school.

The Beacon

Calvin Yeckel, Joan Schaller, Dorothea Mae Bower, Virginia Young, Donald Bischoff.

Many songs and a greater number of books and motion pictures have taken their substance from the romantic tales of the West. And so as these stories have always held a fascination for young men and women embarking on new adventures. As our theme, we have chosen for The 1949 Beacon, "The Cleveland Forty-Niners." We believe that the story of the famous pioneers of a century ago has made an interesting background for the Art Work and will be a book which one will find enjoyable in future years.

We have tried to balance The Beacon between the modern "Forty-Niners" and the Gold Rush Forty-Niners. There are included snapshots taken in class, representative of the various departments, and sessions, special school activities, sports events, and important people around school.

The division titles, such as "Wagon Train" and "Around the Trading Post," reminiscent of Gold Rush days, are a step from the usual names given to these pages. The captions in the feature section are of the same Western flavor, which we have attempted to spread throughout The Beacon.

In the belief that our theme "The Cleveland Forty-Niners" will be pleasing to the student, we present The 1949 Beacon.

The Orange and Blue

The bi-weekly issue of the Orange and Blue, the school paper of Cleveland High School, may not measure up to all the standards of a daily metropolitan paper or all the requirements of journalism, but it is the foundation of journalistic learning, as well as a source of amusement and information within the school. Problems of all newspapers are the same, and the Orange and Blue is no different. Writing the story, meeting the deadline, making up the pages, and getting it all to the printer are the common problems, and the editor, the staff, and the whole class, experience them and enjoy the satisfaction when the finished product, the paper, comes out and they are able to see their work in black and white.

Aspiring journalists of all talents are bound to have something to do. Three or four fellows on the sport page, a couple of girls on the gossip column, another one on the fashions, and the news go-getters for the front page. Then there are the editorial writers, and soon the paper has everything, when the feature and story writers turn in their material. Monday and Tuesday are the busy days when everybody is trying to make the deadline. After Wednesday most of the class takes it easy while the editor and the page heads gets busy with the galley, just back from the printer, and they cut, paste, and pin until the pages are all neatly arranged between their borders with the printed material. Back they go to the printer and the next Wednesday the shining new sheets come back complete and finished.

So often in a student's Senior year, he is looking for another English class to make up his program. If he can get the necessary recommendation the jolly and informal Orange and Blue class offers a lot of enjoyment as well as the credit in advanced English.

Choral Music

To many people CHORAL MUSIC holds various meanings. To some it means playing a small part in a large chorus of fine singers, or to others it means the heart-warming programs given at Christmas and Easter when each voice of the chorus unites to fill the school auditorium with the sentiments of the season. The valuable friendships made during this time are not soon forgotten. This and even more is CHORAL MUSIC in Cleveland High School.

Students may have the enjoyment of five choirs. There is Junior Choir (two sections) for beginners, Intermediate Choir for more advanced students who wish to continue and finally, Senior Choir for students having had choral experience.

The "A" period Special A Cappella Choir, composed of experienced singers or those who have shown exceptional talent, meets every morning at 8:10 under the able direction of the vocal instructor, Miss Louise Mann. This is an invitational choir and the student is chosen for citizenship, possibility of development, and individual talent. It is, indeed, a great privilege to belong to this group and through its loyal members the choir has become well known throughout the city.

It has become traditional for the A Cappella Choir and other selected students to give an operetta every fall followed by a variety show in the spring of the year. Each gives freely of its time and talent during one of these shows, the members agree, the training and experience received is priceless.

Through such programs the members of the choirs have brought to others enjoyment and happiness, and they have found the joy in giving.

DOROTHEA MAE BOWER

Vocal Music Council

The Vocal Music Council of Cleveland High School had been organized and became effective in the Spring of 1946.

A group of students, extremely interested in the welfare and advancement of music students in school banded together under faculty supervision, to form this growing organization.

Set dues for each member of all choirs is asked in order to carry on its work. In turn these young people of each of the choirs elect fellow students to represent them at the meetings, five persons from each choir.

Each term several students are selected for their outstanding contributions, loyalty and service to music in Cleveland High School. After selection by the Council, these students are presented with a special award. Awards are also given in the form of a pin, to students who have earned 1,000 points or more during their high school music career.

During its brief but very active existence, the Council has been able to bring about a better acquaintance with the members of all choirs.

All concerned feel this an important step in self expression through student participation in government and leadership.

It's the blare of the brass, the rattle of the drums, and the piping of the reeds that make for an interesting musical life in Room 27. The Concert Band, Second Band, Intermediate Band and Beginning Instrumental Class have fun playing music of the old masters and music of contemporary composers. These organizations invite those who play a band instrument or those who wish to learn to play a band instrument to enroll in one of the instrumental music classes and have a musical good time.

Verdi, the great composer, said, "Music is the art of arts, the alphabet and the science, the incentive and the crown of that education which is the surest promotive of good citizenship, as well as enjoyment." Members of the orchestra realize that music does promote good citizenship and that orchestral music does afford enjoyment. They invite all players of string instruments to join the orchestra.

*Ready on the right?
Load and commence firing!*

This chant is heard on the rifle range as the girls of the Sharpshooters Club set about their weekly practice. Although giggling and banter have their place at every meeting, each member devotes herself earnestly to improving her marksmanship. There is good reason for this strict attention to the business in hand, for each meeting is a competition and the scores are displayed on the bulletin in the front hall. Furthermore, the members are eligible to win certain honors and emblems which have a national significance. Last, and best of all, good scores will mean participation in the meets of the Greater St. Louis Junior Rifle League.

With five seasoned members and twelve promising recruits, the club officers look confidently toward the shooting matches which begin in February. The experienced members learned a great deal about meeting stiff competition when they participated last year as the only girls' team in the Greater St. Louis Junior Rifle League. The new members were trained under Mr. J. M. Julian's direction, and they show a fine competitive spirit.

The Sharpshooters regard the week-end meet held at Kemper Military Academy in March as the high point of the season. Rifle matches, in which the crack shots of the league take part, are scheduled on Saturday. Every marksman strives to gain a worthy score for his or her team. Last year, Marguerite Roan was awarded a bronze medal for the second highest score in the Girls' Individual Prone Match. The winner was just one point ahead of her, for Marguerite scored 99 points out of a possible 100 points. In the evening, all concern for trophies is forgotten while the victors and the vanquished enjoy a military ball.

Therefore, on Thursdays, every Sharpshooter handles her rifle with poised deliberation until she hears:

Cease firing! Open bolts! Change targets!

The Greater St. Louis Junior Rifle League season will start the first week in February. The teams in this league are Cleveland boys, Cleveland girls, Southwest, Kirkwood, Legion, Alton High, C. B. C. and Beaumont.

The Cleveland High Rifle Team captured the league Championship last year, winning all six matches. C. B. C. finished second with five wins and one loss. The winning team was made up of Leroy Atchinson, George Clyde, David Dealy, Don Pape, Louis Keller and Rich Beckman. All of these fellows are Distinguished or Expert Riflemen.

Rich Beckman and Lou Keller will be back to fire on the first line. Strong contenders for the year's team are Tom Diederich, Al Haller, Otto Hagemann, Bill Vogt, Bob Schoenecker, Craig Paige, Richard Reilly and Richard Storm.

The sound of twenty-two rifles can be heard from Rooms 22 and 27 every Tuesday afternoon. Rifle shooting is a year around sport than can be enjoyed by both boys and girls.

Since the passing of Mr. Wilson, two years ago, the Rifle Club has been under the direction of Mr. Julian. Under Mr. Julian, there are set rules to insure the safety of everyone present at the firing.

The boys start the club by entering what is known as the Nu-gang where they take a preparatory ten-week training course. At the end of the training course, a test is administered and those falling below a certain level cannot enter the club.

Not Present for Picture: Richard Chastony, Richard Perry.

This is the second year that the Angling and Casting Club has been in existence, but it has become one of the more popular clubs of Cleveland High School, and has a membership of eighteen boys.

The Cleveland Angling and Casting Club has endeavored to form a club which would prove entertaining to its members and which will educate them in sportsmanship and conservation. Our members have often fished together, and many of us have learned that it is more fun to provide good fishing for your companions than it is to fish for yourself.

Fishing is a sport which affords the participant a wealth of wholesome relaxation and provides many thrills. Many people have the idea that fishing consists chiefly of throwing one's line into the water and sitting lazily on the bank awaiting a bite. Those of us who have thrilled to the pull of a fighting bass on plug or fly know this is not true.

One has only to make a float trip on one of Missouri's numerous clear, cold, spring-fed streams, amidst scenery only the Ozarks can furnish, to fully appreciate Nature's great out-of-doors.

Our meetings are very interesting. They consist of moving pictures, talks by some of our teachers who are fishermen, discussions of fishing trips made by members of the club, and plans for special fishing trips; in general, we have a swell time.

New members and visitors are always welcome. Meetings are held in Room 212 every Friday at 3:10. Come and get acquainted with our members and tell us of the "big one" that got away.

Toxophilite

Row 1: Louise Holz, Jenell Edwards, Mary Johnstone, Shirley Klemp, Dolores Peden.

Row 2: Janet Lange, Doris Ehrenreich, Miss Hoffmann, Susan Lewandowski, Helen Broderick.

Robin Hood and his men may turn over in their graves for what the girls of Toxophilite are doing to the art of archery, but never-the-less they are having their fun with their bows and arrows. Every Tuesday, weather permitting, the girls of "Tox" can be seen dragging, pulling, and pushing the heavy target out to the campus. Some real competition for William Tell may be seen as the two senior members of the club, Louise Holz and Blanche Saake, prove their ability with several bull's-eyes.

On days when it is impossible to go outside the members meet in Room 114 to repair equipment and to plan beneficial programs.

Each term a number of parties are planned; the annual Christmas party and the party for Seniors.

Under the sponsorship of Miss Hoffmann, the girls are developing good sportsmanship, skill with the bow and arrow. If you should see an arrow coming in your direction, it will just be Toxophilite trying for a perfect shot, the bull's-eye.

The name, Goodfellowship, already explains the purpose of this club, which is one of the oldest and most renowned at Cleveland.

Parties are given for children of day nurseries or old folks homes on Christmas, Easter, and Halloween. A tea is given each spring in behalf of the mothers of the girls who are members of the club. Also a party is given each term for Seniors who are leaving.

This year, as a new project, the members of Goodfellowship, under the able guidance of Miss M. I. Mann, are helping the Junior Red Cross in the field of knitting. Goodfellowship is the distributor of the material for the use of the entire school.

So, if you would like to make boys and girls happy, or help those who are less fortunate than yourselves, we invite you to join us in our work.

Meetings are held in Room 5 on alternate Tuesdays.

The picture of the "49ers" sitting around the campfire is reproduced by Cleveland High School Cle Cuks on their wiener roasts, which are held every year. Another one of the Club's big events is the party for the graduates. It is a treat for them to watch the undergraduates do their work.

Despite the high cost of food Cle Cuks has not raised its dues. This is where the club and sponsor have had a problem trying to serve a meal to a group of eighteen every meeting with the small amount of money.

The club is divided into three groups. The group that is cooking always cleans up and does the dishes afterwards. This is a routine job and is not minded by most of the girls because they have a lot of fun doing it together.

The name Cle Cuks was originally derived from "Cleveland Cooks." The club has as its objective the art of cooking party foods. It is one of the oldest clubs at Cleveland and was formed in 1920 with the idea that membership in a foods class is not necessary for membership in Cle Cuks. Girls of Term Four and above are eligible for membership. At initiation the new girls are tested for talents other than cooking, by entertaining with songs or readings and for their ability to wash dishes. A Cle Cuk must be an all-around girl.

Anna Howard Shaw, for whom our club was named, was a noted reformer and speaker. When first organized it was a public speaking club, but it has extended its activities to dramatics and social events. The principal events of each term are the Webster-Hayne Party, the Mother-Daughter Tea and the Initiation of new members.

New members are admitted within the first few weeks of each term. Pledge week, an ordeal in which all prospective members must participate, is climaxed by an initiation.

The meetings are held every Wednesday at 3:15 in Room 216.

Miss McLean, our sponsor, works conscientiously with the officers and members in making our club an interesting and successful one.

Suppose that for one week you are a common house fly instead of a normal human being. At 3 o'clock on Thursday afternoon you fly into Cleveland High School. You notice that the students seem to be in a hurry to leave all the classrooms but one, Room 105. Several are entering rather than leaving it. You follow one in and then alight on one of the fixtures hanging from the ceiling.

Nothing much happens until about 3:15 when the boy sitting behind the desk in front of the room raps for order. He is facing about twenty typical Cleveland boys and a distinguished looking gentleman who is sitting to one side of the group. The chairman says a few words, but, of course, since you are a fly, you cannot understand them. One of the other boys rises and reads something from a large, black notebook. A few others comment and a vote is taken. Another boy stands up and seems to be perturbed about some figures he reads from a frayed and well-worn book.

You drowse off at this point and are awakened when you feel the light fixture shaking under you. A boy is wildly gesticulating before the group and the vibrations from his passionate words are shaking the fixture. Soon his place is taken by others who are just as vehement as he. The chairman interrupts the lively debate to point at the clock and the agitation on the part of the group subsides. The gentleman goes to the front of the room and makes a few comments. You realize that he is the sponsor, Mr. Doxsee. A few moments later everyone leaves.

A week passes and you are a human being again. Now you can understand as well as take part in the next meeting of the Webster-Hayne Debating Society.

Have you heard the news? Well, if you haven't we would be glad to enlighten you on the subject. During this past term we celebrated our third birthday. It doesn't really seem that long, but it was in January, 1946, that a group of fellows, along with Mr. Doxsee as their sponsor, formed what we all know, the Audio-Visual Club of Cleveland High.

These boys are no different from other boys, in fact that boy who sits across from you in 105, or in front of you in history may be a member of Audio-Visual.

Any boy that attends Cleveland may apply for membership in this club, and upon passing a test given by one of our sponsors, he is eligible for assignment in Room 113. After acquiring some experience, he may be eligible for assignment on the amplifier in the auditorium, or he may run the carbon arc-lamp projector in the auditorium booth.

At present thirty-two boys make up the membership of the club. We hold our meetings every Tuesday morning in Room 113 at 8:20. All boys are invited to apply for membership; so come one, come all.

"Shall I go to college? For what type of college am I best suited? What kind of financial aid can I receive?" If these are some of the questions you've been asking yourself lately and if you can't decide upon an answer, bring your problems to the College Club and let some of its members help you.

The College Club is just what its name implies, a group of boys and girls who are interested in attending a college and want to know how they can best prepare for it.

Meetings are held on the second and fourth Thursdays of the month in Room 201 under the sponsorship of Miss Fisse. At these meetings we gather from catalogues information regarding the requirements for entrance and scholarship aids offered by various colleges. We study entrance examinations, and sometimes we have speakers from colleges in the vicinity of St. Louis. During the Fall Term, we had speakers from Washington and St. Louis Universities, who told us about their schools and answered our questions concerning them. At least one field trip a term is planned to a nearby college. These prove very helpful, for we are able to see college life from the inside.

We all enjoy our meetings and have benefited immensely from them. Why not come and be a part of the College Club?

"But why did Rome fall?"

This question had been asked so many times in the Latin classes at Cleveland High School that Salutatio, the Latin Club, decided to try to find an answer. This is Salutatio's work for yet another term. Our aedile, a title which meant in Roman times the planner of public gladiatorial combats, immediately began to plan each program for the ensuing term. In this way each member of the club was able to acquire a clearer picture of the collapse of the Roman Empire, a subject which could not have been covered so fully in class work alone.

Intermingled with these instructional meetings, we have some in which we play old Roman games and occasionally we put on plays in Latin dialogue. At these meetings we sing our club songs in Latin.

Salutatio holds to many Roman customs. In keeping with the name Salutatio, which means an early morning meeting, the club holds its meetings before school. The roll call is answered by "ad-sum," and the titles of the officers are all in Latin.

Salutatio provides an excellent opportunity for any Latin student to study and appreciate more fully the lives and customs of the great Roman people.

German Club

A bit of old Germany leaks through the walls of C. H. S. every now and then as the members of the German Club sing songs such as "Du, Du, Liegst Mir Im Herzen," "O Tannenbaum," and "Verlassen." This is guaranteed to make the study of German more fun than a dry book. Interest to further study is stirred with songs, stories, and poems under the direction of Miss Westphaelinger.

As an added task, the German Club, in the past, has endeavored to help provide some of the poorer people in Germany and Austria with the things these people needs most, chiefly clothing. This year it would again like to undertake this worthy deed. With the help of its members, it can accomplish it with ease.

To be eligible for membership, you need to have taken, or now are taking German, whether it is Term One or Eight. We invite you who are eligible to come to our meetings held on the second and fourth Thursdays of the month, in Room 125, at 3:10 P. M. Come and enjoy yourself. We'll be expecting you.

An advantage may be derived by attending our meetings. For when we find ourselves on the path to future success and happiness, our knowledge of a foreign language is sure to better our opportunities.

 Not Present for Picture: David McGowan, Russell Reinhard.

On Wednesday mornings at 8 o'clock Ronald Schultz, President, the other officers, and Mr. Stock of the Physics Department, get together with club members in Room 213 and plunge enthusiastically into the study of Radio. A restriction of membership to students who have taken or are taking Physics II is necessary so that members will know what is going on when they come to meetings, which they have to attend regularly to belong in the club.

The sole purpose of the club is to further our knowledge of Radio. No construction of apparatus will be undertaken during school hours, but experiments will be performed to help us understand our work more easily. These experiments are to be performed with equipment already in school or constructed at home by individuals.

During meetings we study and discuss the Amateur Radio. Out of a Radio Handbook, study assignments are given to individuals who, in turn, are obliged to explain the principles of their assignment to the club.

The entire club is grateful to Mr. Stock for giving us his own time to enable us to meet and further our studies in a subject in which we are all interested—RADIO.

Winning the West

Sutter and Marshall were partners in the lumber mill at Sutter's Fort. But more than that, they were partners in the opening of the West, which affected the Atlantic seaboard, Panama, England, France, Spain and Mexico. The tiny pieces Marshall saw glittering one day in his mill race were no small things, for they soon attracted men to California as a magnet draws iron filings. It has been written that "Men, more than treasures, were discovered; and men, more than gold, were tested and tried." This is undoubtedly true. The gold itself was of little value compared to the land it laid open, and the effect it had upon other countries.

There were three ways to get to California: the Overland Route, around the Horn of South America, and through the Isthmus of Panama. No one of three was easier than the others and each one required youth, and determination and fortitude. Indians and natural barriers, such as rivers, deserts, and mountains, stood in the way. Diseases like yellow fever, cholera, and scurvy haunted those crossing the Isthmus and sailing around the Horn, along with overcrowded living conditions on ships, and exorbitant prices of exploiting shippers, who controlled the water transportation. Surely, it was the men who survived all these trials that enriched California, and not the gold.

In the gold rush we find competition at every turn to make a fellow a man and a leader, and so it is also in sports that we find that same competition to mold men and leaders. That ought to be the goal of all sports activities here at Cleveland; the goal to mold the right kind of people to run this country using fair play. Sports at Cleveland should be the means whereby youth and determination and fortitude are the requirements and where "Men, more than treasures, are discovered; and men, more than gold, tested and tried."

CLEVELAND—McBRIDE

The Cleveland football team defeated fighting McBride in the opener of the 1948 season. Captain Joe Haenchen started the ball rolling by scoring the first touchdown, followed by Jack Gragg, Don LaPlante, and Marty Cliffe. Howard Lincks converted for three, making the final score 27 to 0.

Joe Haenchen, Captain

CLEVELAND—BELLEVILLE

Belleville proved to be more stubborn than McBride did the week before. Belleville threatened to score in the first half on our one-foot line, but the Cleveland Dutchmen put up a brick wall. In the second half, Haenchen broke loose for the one and only touchdown, Cleveland winning, 6-0.

CLEVELAND—PADUCAH

After riding through Illinois and arriving in Kentucky, our Dutchmen took the field with Tilghman High's eleven. Tilghman scored in the first quarter, but Cleveland fought back with Haenchen going over and Lincks converting, making the score 7-6, favor of Cleveland. Throughout the remainder of the game, Cleveland exhibited some of the finest football witnessed thereabouts, with Jack Gragg scoring once more to end the game, 13-6.

CLEVELAND—CENTRAL

Cleveland opened the St. Louis Public High season with Central. Our boys wasted no time in getting to the pay dirt, Joe Haenchen, then Jack Gragg, followed by Ed McDonnell and Joe Haenchen again. The Dutchmen kept the Redwings in their territory, getting two safeties, from blocked punts. Lincks booted two between the uprights and Cleveland won by a victorious score of 30-0.

CLEVELAND—ROOSEVELT

This fair night fans witnessed the traditional contest of the two strong rivals of past seasons. Cleveland, showing superb power, tucked another victory under its belt, Joe Haenchen, Roy Craig, and Lou Miller scoring, with Lincks converting to make the score 19-20 at the final gun.

CLEVELAND—McKINLEY

Starting out with five victories gained, the Dutchmen were striving for their sixth. It was a trying game, both teams being evenly matched. The score remained nothing to nothing, deep into the third quarter. Then Jack Gragg, throwing a left-handed pass, landed the ball in Lou Miller's waiting arms in the end zone. Lincks' kick was good, making the score 7-0, the only scoring for either side.

CLEVELAND—SOUTHWEST

Coach Meinhardt's eleven took the sloppy field with the Southwest Longhorns, Cleveland displaying muddy field football, kept the Longhorns in their place. Haenchen broke loose to go over, and Howard's toe again proved to be well educated; the score 7-0. The second quarter, the tide changed and Southwest rolled up three touchdowns, and another in the third quarter. Finally Cleveland scored, but too late. Lou Miller got a hold of two good passes to carry them over and the game ended, Cleveland losing for the first time this season, 20 to 26.

CLEVELAND—BEAUMONT

The Dutchmen, after surviving their defeat, put up a great fight against the Bluejackets. Don LaPlante scored first for Cleveland but Cleveland couldn't keep Beaumont from scoring, too. They scored two to our one and then neither threatened the score until Ed McDonnell ran through the Bluejackets for the second touchdown. While neither Cleveland conversion was completed, Beaumont made one. So another defeat, this time 12 to 13.

CLEVELAND—SOLDAN—BLEWETT

Cleveland, displaying better football in earlier season, was trounced by Soldan-Blewett. It seemed we were in the losing habit now. Capt. Joe Haenchen carried both touchdowns over and Lincks' points were good but Soldan-Blewett was one up on us making the score 19-14.

CLEVELAND—JACKSON, TENN.

Despite the recent defeats Coach Meinhardt's hard fighting Dutchmen were offered a bowl game in Tennessee. We accepted the offer and played Jackson High in the Exchange Bowl game, a post-season game. The team received the best of hospitality during their stay in Jackson.

This game was played with two of our best players on the side lines, Captain Joe Haenchen with a broken foot and Tackle Don Granda with a dislocated shoulder. Despite these losses the game went on. The Dutchmen, being broken up a bit, couldn't keep up with the fast Southern backs. Bill Haupt scored first for Cleveland and then Jackson scored but their kick was wide and Howard's was good. At the end of the half, we led 7 to 6. Again we scored, Bill Hessler this time, and again Jackson scored. We still led 13-12, as the game moved into the final minutes. In those final minutes, Jackson completed a pass to make the ending score 19-13.

Football "B" Team

- Row 1: Russell Strieb, Russell Marmon, Francis Brady, Dale McMullin, Jean Burr, Tom Scharffenberger, William Peche, Jerry Walling, Earl Eaton, William Held.
- Row 2: Robert Daugherty, Milton Wensel, Leandro Diaz, Gene Lalk, George Gerner, Jerry Wetzel, William Heyl, Leo Carosella, Elmer Koestner, Coach Ballin.

The "B" Team of '48 did not live up to the remarkable record set by the '47 "B" Team. The first game of the season was cancelled because Central was unable to meet us on the day scheduled. The Little Dutchmen were defeated by Roosevelt 18-6 the following week, and in its next game the team nosed out McKinley, 7-6. The Longhorns of Southwest paid a visit to Cleveland and won 19-0. When the boys went north to play Beaumont they were stung by the Blue Jackets 25-6. On November 14, the "B" Team was invited to the Public School's Stadium by Soldan-Blewett. The field was muddy but the fighting Dutchmen held the Tigers and rolled over them 19-0.

Numerous changes in the first string throughout the year made the first and second string almost identical. At the ends were Leo Carosella, Bob Daugherty, Charles Wensel and Elmer Koestner; at tackle Bill Heyl, Leondro Diaz, Jim O'Keefe, and Bill Gott; at guards Jerry Wetzel, Gene Lalk, Jack Cantrell, and Ronald Danback; the centers were George Gerner and Everett Menendez. The backfield, in spite of all its changes, came up with Jean Burr and Bill Peche at quarterback; Earl Eaton and Russell Marmon at fullback; Dale McMullin and Jerry Walling at right halfback; Tom Scharffenberger and Francis Brady at left halfback.

The managing of the team was ably done by Russell Streib. Coach Ballin sincerely hopes some of these boys who lettered this year will play Varsity next year and help to regain the championship for Cleveland.

Hustling from the opening whistle, the Dutch Cagers started off their season with a "bang," toppling their first four opponents before bowing to a highly polished Collinsville five, rated one of the top teams in Illinois basketball circles.

Rebounding from this defeat, the boys bounced back hard, fighting their way right into the finals of the Normandy Tournament, only to be greeted by one of those "cold" nights when it seems there's a "lid" on the basket, falling before the host team, Normandy. Reaching the Interscholastic finals kept alive Coach Jansen's outstanding record of bringing a team to that particular point for six straight years. To date they've come out 50-50, with three champs and three runners-up.

The inhospitable Normandy Vikings handed the Orange and Blue their third defeat of the season in a return engagement. This game had its advantages, as the charges of Coach Jansen decided then and there, that they didn't like leaving the court on the short end of the score.

Putting their decision to practice, the Dutch breezed through the seven games still remaining on their schedule, and, as a result of this "breeze" were blown right into the Public League Championship. As well as establishing themselves as one of the district's top quintets.

Moving into sub-regional play the cagers mowed down Affton in a first-round game, only to be the victim of the season's biggest upset, coming at the hands of an inspired C.B.C. team, by a one point margin. But even after swallowing such a bitter pill, the Dutch displayed to one and all, their possession of a fighting heart, playing one of their best games of the season the following night, to capture the Consolation Trophy.

Compiling eighteen wins against only four losses, the squad found that the previous high spots of the season overshadowed its record.

First and foremost of these high spots was, without a doubt, its success in the Public League, when it captured its first championship in four years. The League, as always, was strong, but the Dutch measured up to every occasion and romped through seven straight games without a loss. Among the seven, was our arch-rival Beaumont.

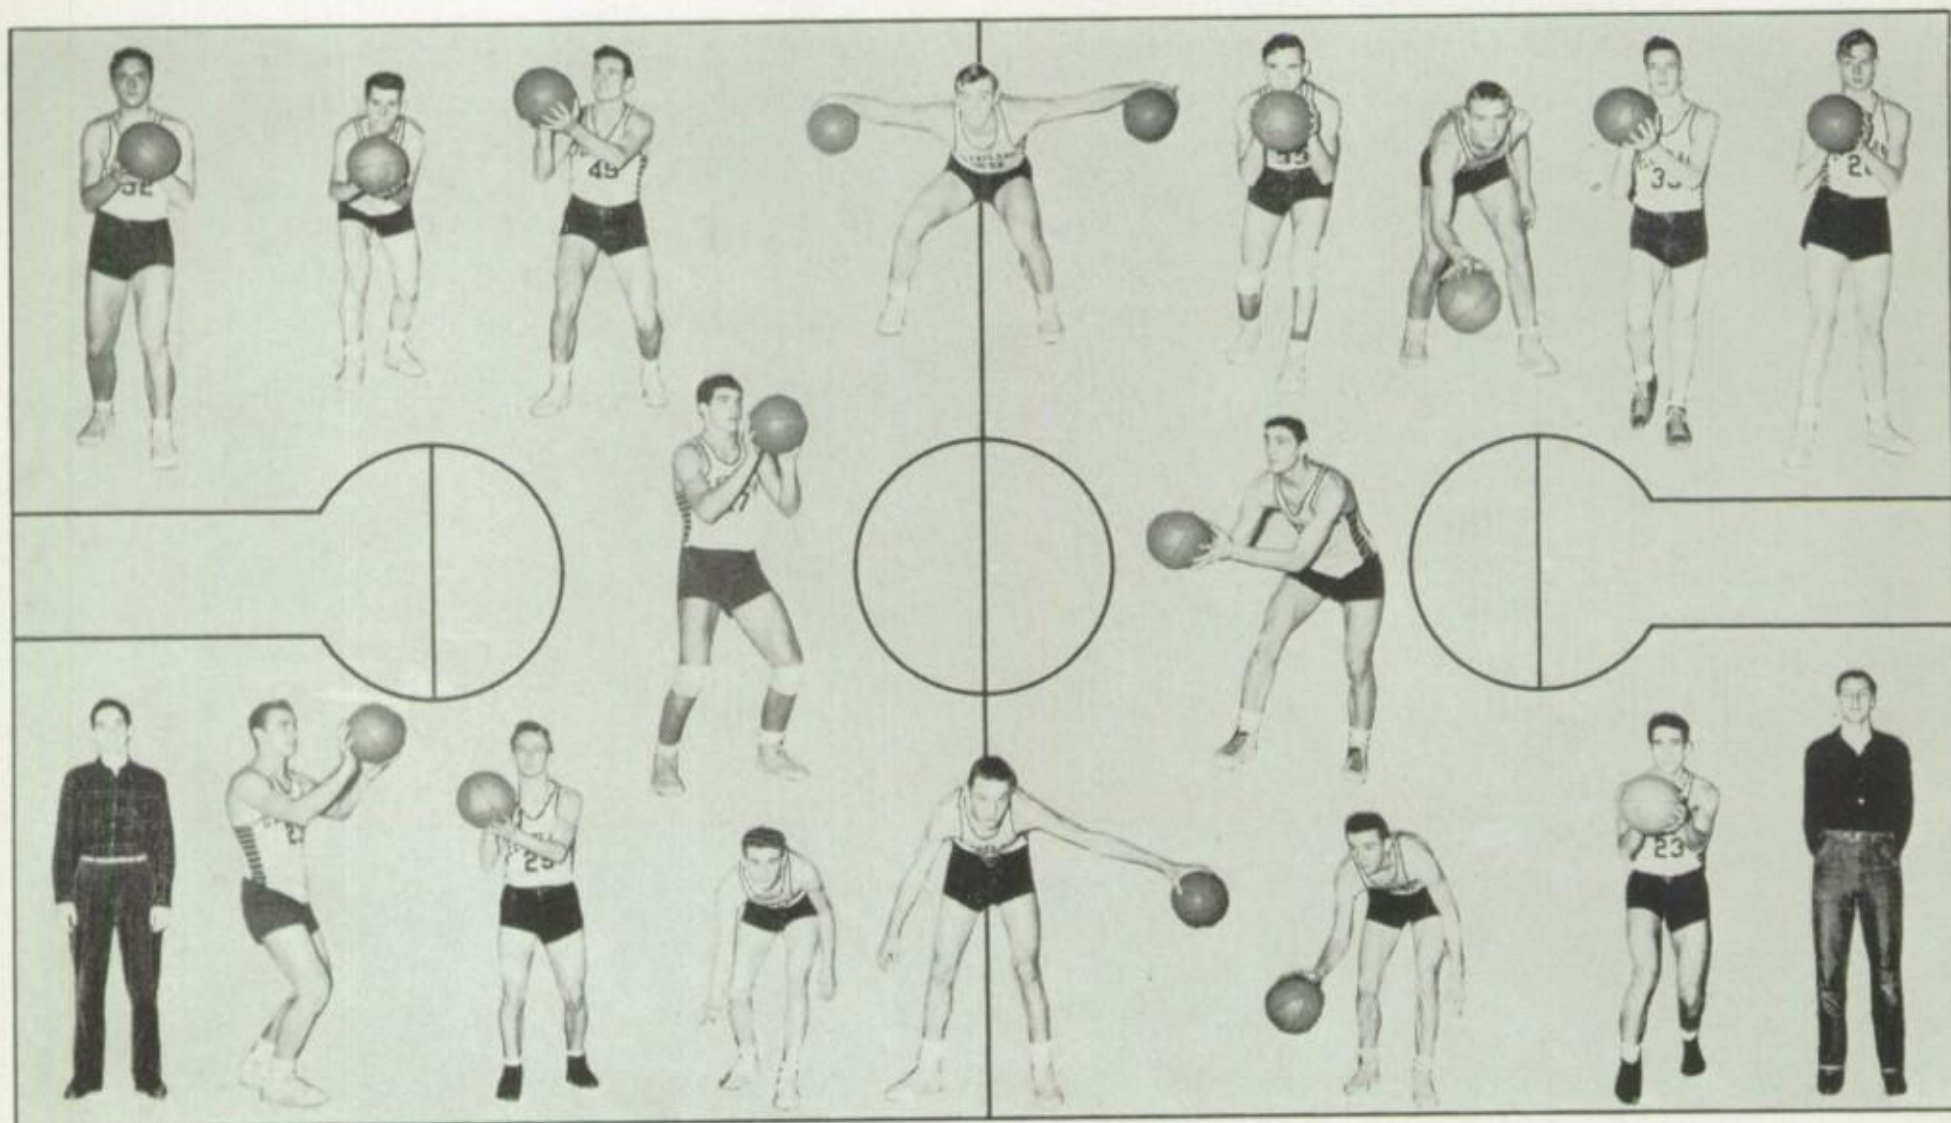

Another high spot of the season was the scoring duel staged by Captain LeRoy Guittar and "Easy Ed" McDonnell. Those two, ably "fed" by the ace ball handler Wayne Ortmann, battled for scoring honors in almost every game, much to the dismay of the foes of the Orange and Blue.

Along with the winning of the League Championship for honor as the highest spot of the season, was the great spirit of the team. The boys on the bench as well as in the game were pulling, fighting, and cheering for each other in an all for one spirit.

Add up the team's great record, the Public High Championship, and the boys' outstanding spirit—they total only one answer—A Great Season.

Basketball "B" Team

Row 2: Arthur Bellinger, James Hasser, Jack Lucks, William Heyl.

Often the root of the outstanding Varsity basketball teams lies in the development of the B squad. The B Team develops a boy to a great extent in that it serves to form the right habits which a successful player must acquire early. Regular inter-scholastic games are played in which competition is keen and though a boy is only eligible to participate until he is a Fourth Termer, much valuable game-experience can be gained.

Some students who will probably be seen on the Varsity teams of Cleveland in the future are: the sharp-shooting Robert Rubin, Leo Carosella, Neil Fiala, and Richard Alfeld, all of whom played B team ball. Among the new freshman faces we see the lanky frames of Elmer Koesner and Carl Scharffenberger, also speedy James Hasser. Although Cleveland's B team had just a fair season during the '48-'49 span, they hope, with the help of these freshmen, to play better ball in the future.

So a whole lot of friends
 The baseball nine guided by Coach Jansen ended the season by capturing third place with nine victories out of fourteen league games for a percentage of .643. The team did very well considering that the majority of the boys will be back for another year. This team worked together exceptionally well, and had a season record of 15 victories and five defeats.

just the best Cleveland have
 The batting average of the team was a lousy .256, and a fielding average of .981, which is above par for high school baseball. LeRoy Guittar was the team's leading batter with a .435 average. This percentage was also the second highest in the Public High League. Robert English captured second place in team batting with a .364 average and placed in the high ten in league play. He also led the pitchers with a record of four victories and one setback.

Bill Neiger
 The catching job was taken care of by veteran Richard English and ably assisted by William Neiger, a newcomer to the squad. Richard had an excellent season and his accurate throwing was a great asset to the team. The pitching burden was shouldered by Bill Franz, Robert English, Jack Gragg and Gene Franz. These pitchers handled their job well. The Orange and Blue infield consisted of Edward McDonnell and Louis Miller, rangy first basemen; Norman Faveere and Wayne Ortmann, speedy second sackers; Walter Shannon, classy young shortstop; and LeRoy Guittar, our slugging third sacker.

Patrolling the outfield were Richard Ortmann, a fine defensive player, in left field; Bill Miller, whose speed and timely hitting won for him the center field position; and Alan Machmer, whose long ball hitting and strong arm won a starting position for him in the outfield alternating in left and right fields. Doubling in right field when not doing mound chores was Robert English. His lusty hitting was always a threat to opposing teams.

The majority of the players will be back to compete for the pennant flag next year. Boys returning next season are: LeRoy Guittar, Walter Shannon, Wayne Ortmann, William Neiger, Norman Faveere, Alan Machmer, Allen Weber, Gene Franz, Howard Lincks, Louis Miller, Edward McDonnell, Jack Gragg, and Clyde Logsdon. This year's team did excellent work, but watch for the Forty-Niners.

Under the excellent coaching of Mr. Ballin and Mr. Singer, Cleveland got off to a fine start winning its first meet from Southwest and Central. The first important meet of the year was the Maplewood Relay in which we placed two Relay teams. They were: the 880-yard relay, which placed fifth; and the two-mile relay team, which shattered the old record by 5.5 seconds, running the two miles in 8:38. The members of this team were Don Wuest, Cal Yeckel, Gene Jabker, and Bob Lindquist. Cleveland placed fifth in the relay division.

On April 30, 1948, the St. Louis Public High School League held its first annual Track and Field Relays. Cleveland made a fine showing, taking second in the Senior Division and third in the Junior Division. The only first place taken by Cleveland was the two-mile relay which established a record.

The only two places taken in the District Meet by Cleveland were the mile run won by Bob Lindquist and the 880 relay team which placed fourth. Our only entry in the State meet was Bob Lindquist who placed third in the mile.

In the last meet which was Field Day, Cleveland placed third in the Senior Division, and seventh in the Junior Division. The only two first places were taken by Ernest Telthorst, who won the senior shot put for the second straight year, and Bob Lindquist, who ran the mile in the record breaking time of 4:39.6. Cleveland finished fourth in the Public High League.

Tennis Team

Row 1: Jack Wiley, James Tancill, Eugene Kiesler.

Row 2: Louis Keller, William Stuckenberg, Russell Sims, Donald Bischoff, Mr. Schueneman.

Instead of describing over again the tennis meets of the 1948 season in which Cleveland finished fifth in a seven team league, let's talk about a few known facts concerning the tennis team.

You know in baseball there is an umpire, in football a referee, and in high school tennis there'snothing. Because there are often five matches going on at once it is quite hard to get a judge for each one. So the boys rely totally on each other's honesty. Most surprising is the fact that there are few, if any, arguments over whether the ball is in or out or if the other fellow reached over the net on a volley. One of the opponents may even go so far (this is a very gentlemanly game) as to give the other fellow the benefit of the doubt on close ones at the white line, especially if he is ahead, say 5-love. However, you may be sure that if he thinks that the other is cheating he is sure to award himself a little bit more on the "out" side of the chalk line.

Speaking of arguments and noise, you'll find hardly any noise at all on or around a tennis court save the sound of racket on ball. The roar of the crowd at a football game is totally missing, mainly because there is no crowd. Latin has been called the "dead language." Tennis could be called the "dead sport" as far as spectators go. Only a couple of coaches, a lone Orange and Blue Reporter, and once in a while someone who is desperate for amusement will show up at a tennis meet, just to watch. Everybody else just doesn't know how tense and excited you can get over a small ball, a white chalk line, a net, a racket, and two guys, each trying to put the ball where the other fellow "ain't."

Cross Country

Row 1: Calvin Yeckel, Edward Mueller, Joseph Hrbacek, Clyde Creel, Otto Hagemann.

The Cleveland Cross Country Seven narrowly missed being State Champions when Bob Lindquist, the team's star distance runner, was disqualified at the finish line. Bob proved last year at Field Night, by setting a new mile record, that he was the district's leading distance man.

The Meet was held in Forest Park at the Triple A Club and surrounding grounds. The course covered approximately two miles over all types of country. Lindquist, who was running on a sprained ankle, was neck and neck with Bob Underwood when he staggered and fell across the finish line. The rule makes it necessary for the whole body to be over the line and on this technicality Cleveland lost the championship to Roosevelt. Don Wuest, taking fourth, was the only boy to come through with a medal. Participating in the race were eighty distance runners from all over the state. As the result of the disqualification Cleveland came in second in the meet.

Other runners who placed were Jack Lee, ninth; Calvin Yeckel, thirteenth; Bob Richmond, fifteenth; Clyde Creel, twenty-eighth; and Joe Hrbacek, thirty-seventh. Otto Hagemann and Ed Mueller were alternates.

Preparation was begun early in September, and preceding the State meet there were three practice meets. Cleveland claimed victories in all three meets.

The scores were:

Cleveland 20	Hadley 35	Hadley 35
Cleveland 32	Beaumont 35	Soldan-Blewett 66
Cleveland 18	Hadley 45

This year's team boasts six lettermen: Robert Lindquist, Donald Wuest, Jack Lee, Calvin Yeckel, Bob Richmond and Clyde Creel. Points earned by these runners made a score that placed Cleveland five points ahead of Beaumont, last year's champions.

The fine showing of this year's team is due largely to the leadership of Coach Ballin, and the fine spirit and friendship that existed among all members of the team.

Swimming Team

- Row 3: Philip Boeger, Henry Bentz, Mr. Singer, Robert Feldmeier, Charles Hoessle.

The Cleveland aquamen ended their 1948-1949 season with a record of five wins and one loss. This put the tankmen in second place in the Public High League, Beaumont taking first place honors. The aquamen placed second in the City Relays, and fourth in the State meet.

This season, as in the past one, the team had no individual stars, but the members worked together as a team very well. A fine spirit was carried over from last year's City, State and District Championship Team, and made the present team a contender.

The 1949 team elected Robert Zeller captain. He is a veteran swimmer of the past two years.

The tankmen returning were: Henry Bentz, Charles Hoessle, Richard Wiedeman, Robert Feldmeier, Gene Tretter, Ralph Crain, James Goodall, Chetwood Buritsch, Eugene Habersstock, Raymond Hites, Richard Van Nest, Joseph Perks, Edward Rosenhauer, and Robert Zeller. Newcomers to the squad who looked very good were: Albert Vick, Chester Massot, Philip Zeip, Pat Scull, Philip Boeger and Wallace Perks.

Coach Singer piloted this year's team and the boys worked hard under his leadership. This is one of the reasons why our team keeps Cleveland in the lead.

If you're looking for gold, you won't find any in the boy's gym; but you're bound to find plenty of muscular strength, stamina, and agility when the Gym Club is working out.

Although the Gym Club is an old organization at Cleveland, it was in March, 1947, that the team entered the St. Louis Public High Gymnastic Meet. The following December the team placed fifth in the Northside Y. M. C. A. Invitational Meet. In their second Public High Meet in April, 1948, the team rose to fourth place. The lettermen of that team were Captain Frank Feigl, Edwin Seim, Edgar Hartman, Dale Mullaney, Jack Wohlstadter, Lawrence Wilms, Kenneth Maag, Joe Stokely, Albert Vick, Donald Wolff, and Bill Steinkamp. The team has made tremendous gains this year with seven returning lettermen and many promising rookies. They took third place in the 1948 Northside Y. M. C. A. Invitational Meet and won their first dual meet with Beaumont. Chiefly responsible for the team's fast development has been the untiring effort and guidance of Coach Singer.

The team captain for this year is Edwin Seim; the manager is Richard Dahlgren.

If you would like to learn to do the giant swing, shoulder stand, leg scissors, kips and other gymnastic stunts, the Gym Club is the sport for you to follow. Meanwhile, you will be developing yourself physically and mentally, gaining agility, strength, co-ordination, and perseverance. What's more, you'll have a swell time.

Girls Athletic Association

The G. A. A., organized in 1926, plans all the activities for the fall, winter and spring seasons.

Every girl enrolled at Cleveland is a member of the G. A. A. and has the opportunity of taking part in any activity that she wishes to join. This organization provides wholesome recreation for each girl.

Out of each Physical Education class, and after school activity, one girl is chosen to represent her group in the organization. The representative then reports all plans, announcements, etc., to her class or group, informing the members of the different activities in progress.

The G. A. A. presents three awards to the outstanding athletes of the seasonal sports. The first award is the "C" pin, which requires 750 points, the second, the seven-inch felt letter, 1200 points, and the third and highest, a silver loving-cup or trophy, for 1800 points.

The activities to which a girl may belong at Cleveland are numerous. The G. A. A. offers such activities as Bowling, Hiking, Basketball, Volleyball, Swimming, Roller-Skating, Softball, Horse-Shoes, Tennis, Track, and other popular activities.

Bowling has become practically an all-year sport since our league bowlers start early in October, and bowl until late spring. The recreational bowlers bowl only one game an afternoon, and the season is shorter.

Volleyball is also one of our favorite sports. This year the G. A. A. inaugurated something entirely new for Cleveland. In the Spring of 1948 we had an invitational Play Day. Six teams of Volleyball from McKinley played six of our teams, and a social hour followed in the lunchroom. The walls practically shook with the cheers and songs and everyone agreed that it was a real "red letter" day for good sportsmanship and all-around good fellowship.

On January 18, 1949, another Volleyball play day was held. This time Beaumont and McKinley participated. Another rousing day of fun and activity was held, and Cleveland came off with flying colors. Our teams won four of the contests, tied one, and lost one of the games.

The Leadership group had complete charge—refereeing the games, acting as timers, scorers, etc. They also had charge of the refreshments and songs and cheers in the lunchroom after the games. Everyone agreed that the project was a complete success.

The spring of 1949 will see another big play day for Cleveland girls. Girls, back your GIRL'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION, and join in the fun!!!

"Leaders" at Cleveland are nothing new, but to have a whole group of them assembled into one club, and what is more—all girls—well that is something new!

These girls were chosen for their ability in sports and athletics, and also for their leadership. They took entire charge of a Volley Ball Play Day, to which teams from Beaumont and McKinley were invited. Twelve teams played in the three gymnasiums at the same time, and the cheers could be heard all over the building. The leaders acted as referees, scorers, and timers and performed excellently.

Miss Gunther organized the group and is the sponsor this year. The girls will receive training and will eventually be able to assist the Physical Education teachers handle classes and assist in coaching the younger girls in basketball, tennis, and track. The girls are planning to take entire charge of our girls' Play Day this spring.

Watch for the new emblems of the "Leader's Club"!

The End of the Trail

Dear Terry,
(Lenny)
Lots of luck to one of the swellest fellows that ever played for dear old S.W.K. What makes you so tall & handsome, so muscular,
such a basketball and Baseball star, such a brain in studies & that beautiful black hair? The last time I can say is that this is a lot of swell fellow! when you got your "hat nod"
I send

Your C. H. Paul
